STEDMAN ON THE STAND.

Attorneys Foote and Fitzgerald Engage in a Lively Controversy.

When court convened this morning for a resumption of the trial of County Assessor H. P. Dalton, Juror J. R. Ayer requested that the indictment against the Assessor be read. Judge Ellsworth granted the request and Clerk James Glover was instructed to read the document.

Owing to the absence of Attorney W. W. Foote, special counsel for the prosecution, the trial of the case was delayed fifteen minutes. When Foote arrived Judge Ellsworth said: "Gentlemen, I see Mr. Foote is here. We may now proceed."

"I telephoned that I would be a little late," said Foote.

"I suppose you thought a telephone message would be sufficient to stop the court," said Judge Ellsworth. "Well, it was; we waited for you."

STEDMAN RECALLED.

Russell R. Stedman was recalled to the witness stand. He was questioned by the defense regarding a second order for books for the Assessor's office.

"You know there was a substitute order for the books, do you not?" asked Attorney Fitzgerald.

"Yes, sir," replied Stedman.

"Did you examine the books of the Enquirer about that order?"

"No, sir."

"Who told you there was a substitute order?"

"Mr. Daniels told me about it."

Juror Hayes asked if the second order for the books had been made before the claims were presented for payment. Stedman replied that it was.

Fitzgerald asked Stedman if it was his handwriting on the claims against the county for the books.

"Yes, sir," replied Stedman.

"That is your signature on the back of these bills, is it?"

"Yes, sir."

"What are these bills I show you."

THE PLAT BOOKS.

Foote objected to the question but the objection was overruled.

Stedman replied that the bills were the claims of the Enquirer for plat books to be furnished the Assessor.

"Where did you sign those bills?" asked Fitzgerald.

"In Mr. Dalton's office in his presence. I asked him if they were all right."

"Did you not testify during your examination in the Police Court that you went to Mr. Dalton's office and, finding him out, signed the claims in the presence of Thomas Robinson."

"No, sir, I did not."

"What became of the tags for the books that were placed in the office of the Enquirer?" asked Fitzgerald.

TAGS WERE STOLEN.

Foote objected.

"Well, we propose to show," said Fitzgerald, "that those tags were stolen by Stedman; we propose to show that there was a conspiracy between him and Hadley; we propose to bring other testimony to back up these statements."

Foote objected to Fitzgerald arguing the case to the jury.

"I am compelled to make these statements," rejoined Fitzgerald. "Ordinarily, I do not like to make statements before the court, but I am now forced to do so to show the purpose of the question."

Judge Ellsworth overruled the objection.

"I gave the tags to Mr. Hadley," replied Stedman in response to the question.

"Where did you get them?"

"I think they were on my desk."

"Why did you take possession of the tags?"

"Because Mr. Hadley instructed me to."

"That was after the word 'killed' has been written across the order on the books?"

"Yes, sir."

"How did you meet Hadley when you gave him the tags?"

"I met his by appointment by telephone."

"Did Mr. Hadley tell you why he wanted this tag when he asked for it in February?"

"He said it was because the order for the books had not been filled."

"Did you not instruct Mr. Jordan, the assistant bookkeeper, to make the change on the tag from George A. Oakes to Alameda County?"

"No, sir; I did not."

"You have a very poor memory, have you not?"

"I have not a very good memory."

Referring to the claims against the county, Fitzgerald asked Stedman if he had had any conversation with Daniels regarding them.

"Yes, sir," replied Stedman, "he asked me when I was going to get the money

FRITZ CAN TRY GAGE.

Judge Sloss Decides Against the Governor in the Prohibition Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Superior Judge Sloss today denied the application of Governor Gage for a writ of prohibition to restrain Police Judge Fritz from inquiring into the charges of libel against John D. Spreckels and W. S. Leake of the Call, by Louis F. Boardman.

He decided that the criminal libel was an offense against the people and not against any particular individual and that on a complaint regularly issued an examination can be had either at the place of publication or at the residence of the party defendant.

"In the matter of Henry T. Gage, petitioner, for a writ of prohibition," said Judge Sloss this morning as he took his position on the bench, "the demurrer is sustained and the writ of prohibition is denied."

In these words, handing to the Governor's counsel a copy of his lengthy decision, Judge Sloss disposed of the effort made by Governor Gage's attorneys to put an end to the proceedings instituted by Boardman before Police Judge Alfred J. Fritz.

All the counsel in the case were present. As soon as the attorneys for both sides had glanced over the reasons which actuated Judge Sloss in deciding as he did, they left the court.

Judge Sloss in the opening of the decision had given tenor of the petition of the Governor charging the action of Boardman to be due to collusion with Spreckels and Leake. The judge in dwelling upon this said:

"Assuming then that the proceedings pending in the Justices' Court of Wilmington Township do not deprive the respondent of jurisdictionn there remains the question whether the collusive and fraudulent character of the proceedings in this city and county furnish a ground for the issuance of a writ of prohibition."

"That courts will not hear and decide causes not begun in good faith to determine a real controversy between the parties is well settled.

"If the petitioner be right in his contention that the police court is within jurisdiction (and of course the issuance of the writ is dependent on such writ of jurisdiction), he has a plain and adequate remedy. What he desires is to have the accused examined and tried in Los Angeles County, the police court in this city and county had no jurisdiction to examine the accused, a conviction or acquittal in this county would be no bar to a trial in Los Angeles County.

"Similarly, if by conclusion the accused procure a conviction or acquittal of themselves in this county in order to avoid a prosecution in Los Angeles, such conviction or acquittal would be no bar to the prosecution in Los Angeles County.

"If it were conceded that the Court is without jurisdiction of either ground stated, no injury could therefore be done by the proceedings before the respondent.

"For the foregoing reasons the demurrer should be sustained and the alternative writ discharged, and it is so ordered."

It is possible that Governor Gage will attempt to induce the Supreme Court to grant him the relief Judge Sloss denied. The examination before Judge Fritz is set for the first part of next week.

SHE WANTS TO GET BUNCH OF MONEY.

Indiana Woman Asks Chief of Police to Help Her Get Coin.

WRITES A LETTER FROM THE EAST.

Chief of Police Hodgkins is in receipt of a curious communication from a Mrs. Hannah Bentz of Lawrenceberg, Indiana, in which the writer says that she noticed an article in an Eastern paper written by an Oakland newspaper man saying that the government was granted $2,000,000 indemnity for the destruction of American ships in 1799, and the writer lays claim to some of it.

The communication is as follows:

"Lawrenceberg,, July 14, 1902.

"To the Chief of Police, Oakland Cal.:

In reading the Cincinnati Star-Times I notice an article written January 10 concerning the $2,000,000 indemnity to the government for the destruction of the American ships by the French Privateers in 1799. The article states Madame Nordica, the prima donna, who, as a relative of Ichabod Norton, one of the privateers, has entered a claim; also that a young saleslady from Oakland claims a portion of the money. Could you give me any information concerning this?—what are the attorneys' names working on the case and who is the reporter at Oakland that had this article inserted? I think I have a claim to a portion of the money as well as Nordica and Mrs. Virginia C. Norton from Oakland, as I am a near relative of Captain Ichabod Norton. Please give me any information of the proceedings in your city that you may know, and oblige

"MRS. HANNAH BENTZ,

"Lawrenceberg, Indiana."

The name of Mrs. Virginia C. Norton is not to be found in the Oakland Directory and the closest search fails to locate a saleslady by that name in any of the large department stores nor is any proceedings going on in the courts relative to that subject.

POSTOFFICES ARE ROBBED.

Burglars Make a Raid at Centerville and Mission San Jose During the Night.

Word wa sreceived by Sheriff Oscar Rogers this morning that the postoffices of Mission San Jose and Centerville were entered and robbed of stamps to the value of about $254.

The office at the Mission suffered the more heavily of the two, about $160 worth of stamps being taken. An entrance was effected by prying the lock off the rear door.

The stamps were taken from the safe which was left open by Postmaster Erman.

The postmaster gives as his reason for not locking the safe the fact that his office was robbed once before and the safe blown open.

A much smaller amount was secured from the postoffice at Centerville. Postmaster Archibald says that an entrance was effected by forcing a side door.

In both cases the stamp and money drawers were the only things disturbed by the thief or thieves.

The only clew in possession of the authorities which may lead to the detection of the guilty party is that a gray mare, wagon and harness belonging to Joe Sunderson disappeared last night and the supposition is that the horse was utilized by whoever robbed the postoffices.

The two towns are only six miles apart.

The officers at San Jose in conjunction with Sheriff Rogers will attempt to land the criminals before the government officers have time to take up an investigation of the affair.

SIX FIREMEN INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION.

Two Eight Story Buildings Are Almost Completely Destroyed.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 29.—Six firemen injured, two eight-story buildings almost completely destroyed, a number of others slightly damaged and a property loss estimated at $500,000 is the result of a fire on Liberty street that raged fiercely for seven hours.

About 1:30 this morning flames were discovered issuing from the building No. 919 Liberty street, occupied by the Denoon Broose Paint and Varnish Company. Owing to the combustible nature of the stock, the fire spread rapidly and soon the adjoining building occupied by Stewart Brothers, rubber goods, was also in flames.

As the fire spread there were frequent explosions and about 2 o'clock when the firemen seemed to be getting the flames under control, an explosion shook the building and shot the flames far out over Liberty street. Five firemen were caught and badly burned about the hands and scorched about the face. They were taken to a hospital, but their injuries are not regarded as serious.

Meanwhile the smoke and odor from the burning rubber mixed with paints, oils, and benzine, nearly stiffled the firemen and made it almost impossible for them to get at the blaze, but they worked heroically and about 8 o'clock this morning had the fire under control. Both buildings were gutted and S. E. Swartz's wholesale grocery was badly damaged. Spier & Holmes' furniture store, A. Cellis, hat dealer, and J. J. Porter, millinery supplies, in Pennsylvania avenue suffered considerably from smoke and water.

The origin of the fire has not yet been determined. The loss is about two-thirds covered by insurance.

WANT ASSESSMENTS LOWERED BY BOARD

Applications are Heard Before State Board of Equalization at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 29.—T. C. Coogan, representing the Pullman Car Company was before the State Board of Equalization today in reference to the assessment of the company's property in this State.

The company returned a total valuation of $252,798.50 on its assessable property in this State and fixed a valuation of $4,000 each on its standard sleepers, and $1,250 on its tourist cars.

T. O. Toland of the State Board, made an effort to ascertain the earnings of the company in this State but Coogan said this could not be furnished, for the reason that the earnings of the company were not segregated by States. The board determined, however that the company's representative at San Francisco should appear before it to give the information sought.

Thomas Mellersh, representing the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, next addressed the Board. He stated there had been slight increase on the valuation of the rolling stock. Last year it was valued at $271,000, while this year it is given as $289,000. Last year the gross receipts were $993,000 and this year $1,090,000. Last year the expenses were $730,000 as against $808,000. The net earnings were $226,000 last year and this year $223,090.

The road was assesed last year for $2,000,000.

Mr. Mellersh said the assessment on the main line was fair but too high on the branch lines.

LOST HIS LIFE HUNTING GOLD.

Side of Mountain Caved in and Buried the Man Who Was Seeking Treasure.

REDDING, Cal., July 29.—Justus Hamilton, a miner well-known in Shasta county as "Cliff" Hamilton, met a terrible death on the New River, in Trinity county, 100 miles west of this city, on Saturday, July 19.

News of his tragic death reached this city today.

Hamilton had been prospecting in the New River country in the interest of himself, T. F. Morrissey and Charles Davis of Harrison Gulch, and had discovered a rich ledge of gold-bearing quartz high on the mountain side in an almost inaccessible cliff of rocks.

He sent word to Harrison Gulch to his business associates and they despatched John Purchell and Charles A. Kottmeier to Hamilton's camp to bring in some specimens of the ore.

Upon their arrival Hamilton and a companion named William Laswell started to ascend the mountain to the ledge to secure samples of the ore for the messengers.

After much difficulty the venturesome pair scaled the cliff to the ledge.

Hamilton began work with a pick, but Laswell relieved him at the arduous labor.

Suddenly and without warning, while Laswell was swinging the pick the face of the cliff gave way. Laswell saw the mass moving and ran for his life. He gained a point of safety at the side of the ledge. His unfortunate companion did not hear the cry of warning in time to escape the great mass of loosened rock and it carried him down the steep mountain side a distance of several hundred feet, grinding his bones and burying him beneath the mass. It is estimated that fifty tons of rock passed over him.

Was Her Beau or Her Boa to Blame?

In one of the courts recently a man was fined $5 for running into another vehicle as he was driving in the park. He gave as his excuse for the accident that the feather boa of the lady on the seat beside him blew in his face and so obscured his vision that he could not clearly see where he was driving. The question arises, Who was the real culprit, the man who held the reins or the woman who wore the boa? Had the case come up in the courts of the State of Maine the man would not have been held responsible. The blame would have rested on the feather boa. A New York lawyer who spent the summer there last year was driving late one afternoon along a country road, which runs for some distance parallel with a railroad, the two being separated only by a few feet and with no fence between. As this part of the road was reached a little girl who had been picking flowers by the roadside suddenly sprang up, projecting her shadows across the road, just in front of the horse. The horse took fright, swerved to one side and dashed down the railroad track, wrecking the carriage and throwing out the driver, who received serious injuries. Suit was brought against the town for neglecting to provide a fence between the highway and the railroad. The case was easily disposed of, the judge ruling that it was the little girl's shadow that caused all the trouble, and as a shadow is not a very tangible object from which to recover damages, the suit was dropped.—From the New York Evening Sun.

NO TRACE OF MISSING CASHIER.

He Left Forty Cents in Safe of Board of Public Works.

EXACT SHORTAGE IS NOT KNOWN.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—No trace of William J. White, the missing cashier of the Board of Public Works, has been discovered.

The safe in his office, which was supposed to have been the resting place of at least $500, was opened today but all that it contained was 40 cents and a plain gold ring. This afternoon a warrant will be sworn to charging White with embezzlement.

White's books are now in the hands of an expert, who will determine the exact amount of the shortage.

WILKINSON DENIES STORY.

WARDEN SAYS HE HAS NOT BEEN ASKED TO TENDER RESIGNATION.

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—The Bee tonight says: State Prison Director Robert T. Devlin this afternoon declared he had no knowledge whatever of any request made upon Warden Wilkinson of Folsom for his resignation, that the subject was not discussed at the last meeting and that he does not believe such action could be contemplated without his knowledge.

Warden Wilkinson was asked this afternoon as to the truth of the story published in San Francisco. He declared he had not been asked to tender his resignation.

After prolonged and diligent search she discovered an appropriate one on the tombstone of a musician in a Manchester cemetery. Now on the memorial stone of this noted fireworks manufacturer it is stated that "life has gone to the one place where his works are excelled."

NO NEWS FROM THE DESPERADO.

Sheriff Will Search for Him in Mountains in South.

WOUNDED LEG MAY BOTHER HIM.

VISALIA, Cal., July 29.—McKenney, the outlaw, has dropped entirely out of sight. No one knows where he is, but it is supposed that he is headed for the mountains.

Sheriff Parker and a small posse left Visalia at a late hour last night for McKenney, but Parker would not give out any information regarding his plans. The belief prevails that McKenney will make good his escape unless his wounded leg causes him trouble. He is a most desperate man and some difficulty was experienced in securing a posse to give chase.

Favorable news was received from McKenney's victims today and it is probable that all will recover.

Before his flight McKenney said he wanted to kill ex-Sheriff Dan Overall of Visalia before he himself was captured or killed.

The excitement over the affair has subsided.

WHERE HAIR PAYS THE RENT.

Never has the demand for women's hair in Europe been greater than it is now, and men are going from town to town in France, Germany, Switzerland and Russia buying all they can get. It is even said that one enterprising dealer has sent some agents to China for this purpose.

The finest hair in France is furnished by Brittany, for the Breton women have very luxuriant tresses, which never fail to fetch a high price in London. Most of these women are poor, and are quite willing to sacrifice their hair, especially as they wear bonnets which completely cover their heads and thus effectually hide them when shorn.

France furnishes more brown and black hair than any other country, and fair and golden hair is furnished as a rule by the women of Germany and the north of Europe. Gray and white hair is always in demand, and if of good quality fetches a high price.

A French woman's hair weighs generally five ounces and a half, an Italian woman's six ounces and a German woman's nine ounces. It requires much tact to persuade some women to part with their hair, and it is therefore no wonder that a man who possesses this tact and who is a good judge of hair can readily command a salary of from $4,000 to $5,000 a year.—London Answers.

SCHMITZ WILL PLACE THE RESPONSIBILITY

TALKS ABOUT THE SHORTAGE IN THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Mayor Schmitz today issued the following statement in reference to the shortage of the cashier of the Board of Public Works:

"This development in the offices of the Board of Public Works is evidence enough of the necessity of the investigation which I have commenced. The facts shall be brought out now with the greatest exactness, and if there is blame for the apparent carelessness in the checking system in vogue in the department, it shall fall where it belongs.

"Had the investigation not been hampered, I believe enough could have developed to have prevented the escape of Cashier White. Had my hands not been tied I believe that in this board, as well as the Health Board, there would be a responsible head, system and order.

"The investigation of the charges against Commissioners Mendell and Manson were continued until such time as certain members of the Grand Jury could be present. Those men are now, I believe, able to attend and the matter will preceed without further delay."

ELMHURST HOTEL HAS A CLOSE CALL

WAS NEARLY BURNED LAST SATURDAY—NOTES OF INTEREST.

ELMHURST, July 29.—The old Elmhurst Hotel came near being destroyed by fire Saturday, and was saved only by the prompt action of neighbors. A grass fire had been started in the vicinity of the building and before those who were watching the fire were aware of its progress, it had crept up very close to the frame structure. It required some time and a great deal of work to save the building. As it was, only a corner of the building was slightly burned.

A BAD BREAK.

The five-year-old son of J. Bills fell Sunday and sustained a compound fracture of his arm. The break was a very painful and dangerous one.

SMASHED HIS THUMB.

HE HAS RETURNED.

Postmaster Newton Gray has again resumed his duties at his place of business. He has been quite ill for several weeks but is now rapidly improving.

VERY DRAMATIC ACTRESS.

Actresses do not generally carry the tragic air of the stage into their every day affairs, but there are exceptions. It is related of a famous actress that when traveling she was accustomed to dine strictly alone. On one occasion the waiter brought her dinner ten minutes too soon and she made him take it away until the hour had struck.

It was at the same hotel that she gave a servant some clothes for the laundry. "When can these be returned to me washed and ironed?" she inquired.

"The day after tomorrow at 12."

"Be it so," was the stately reply.

But at the hour appointed the clothes had not arrived. She summoned the servant.

"My clothes that were to be returned at 12 today—bring them."

"But, madam, we have not been able to get them ready owing to a difficulty in the laundry. You shall have them tomorrow."

"Bring them now; they were promised today."

"I know it, madam; but they are not ready."

"That matters not to me; do as you are bid."

The servant went out and a few moments later two men entered, bearing in their arms a tub of soapsuds and wet clothes, set them on the floor and went out.

Whether or not the imperious lady finished the task herself is not recorded.—Philadelphia Press.

Little Trouble From Locusts Hereafter

Prof. Alvin Davison of Lafayette college, Pennsylvania, says it is probable the insect "wrongly termed the 17-year locust will not cause any trouble, as the country is full of English sparrows which devour them ravenously. Under the trees of the college campus one may see hundreds of cicada wings, which the birds have torn from the insects while devouring them. The large sand wash, or cicada killer, also carries off vast numbers during June and July. On account of the presence of these two natural enemies entomologists predict that the 17-year locust will become extinst during the present century."—From the Philadelphia Ledger.

A Famous Beauty's Death.

Mrs. Gertrude Ellen Dupuy Sanford, widow of Henry S. Sanford, minister of Belgium during President Lincoln's administrations, died at her home in Derby, Conn., Sunday. At the time of her marriage to Mr. Sanford she was considered the greatest beauty in America. He was then charged d'affaires of the American legation in Paris and for thirty years served the United States in a diplomatic capacity in several capitals in Europe. In each of these Mrs. Sanford won many admirers by her beauty and tact.—From the New York Herald.

A Suit Over a Funeral Sermon.

A fine point has been raised by Charles Michell of Ellenville, N. Y., in his refusal to pay the Rev. Herman C. Fultz $6 for preaching the sermon at the funeral of his (Mr. Michel's) little boy. The child was drowned, apparently through no fault of his own or his parents, but the reverend gentleman seems to have seen the workings of the hand of Providence in the matter. In his funeral sermon he chided the bereaved parents for neglecting to have their son baptized and made some remarks concerning the punishment of those who are sinners by omission.

In suing for the $6 which he named as his schedule price for funeral sermons over drowned boys, the Rev. Mr. Fultz set up the claim that "the laborer is worthy of his hire."

The defendant on the other hand maintained that he had not hired the preacher to cast reflections. He insisted that he did not believe he was in duty bound to pay for being lectured and called names while the body of his dead son lay before him.

There can be no doubt that he and Mrs. Michell had reason to feel hurt, but the jury disagreed and only one man stood out against the preacher.—Chicago Record-Herald.

America's Largest Pearl.

What is said to be the largest perfect pearl ever found in America is now in the possession of Bunde & Upmeyer of Milwaukee. The gem is a perfect sphere of fine luster and weighs 121 grains. Its exact value has not been determined, but experts say that it is worth considerably over $10,000.

This pearl was found by a fisher near Prairie du Chien and passed through other hands before coming to its present owners.

Mr. Bunde said that he had been in the pearl business for thirteen years, but this was the finest specimen of the American pearl he had ever seen. It is without a blemish and the color is all that could be desired.—From the Chicago Record-Herald.

Bertha—I borrowed Mamie's engagement ring and had it on the third finger of my left hand when Fred called last evening.

Kitty—And what did he say?

Bertha—He saw it the moment he got into the room. He looked as though he would go throug the floor. Finally he mustered up courage to ask if it was an engagement ring, and I said "Yes." That was no lie, you know. It was an engagement ring—Mamie's, you know.

Kitty—And then?

Bertha—Then he gasped, and I thought he would faint. But the upshot of it was he proposed.—From the Boston Transcript.

BACHELOR SUPPER RECENTLY GIVEN AT THE KELLY HOME.

SAN LEANDRO, July 29.—Court San Leandro, No. 74, Foresters of America last night celebrated the tenth anniversary of the organization of the court. The affair took place at St. Joseph's Hall and was attended by a large crowd of members and their friends. A program of interesting numbers was rendered as follows:

PART II.

Half hour with Professor Hull, the Modern Mystifier.

Vocal Solo.. .. .. Alfred Wilkie.

Duet.... .. .. Miss J. Johnson and Mr. A. Wilkie.

Selections:. .. .. Oak Leaf Quartet.

The event was a great success and those in charge of the program were greatly pleased at the manner in which it was carried out. Court San Leandro has now passed its tenth year of existence and during that time a no more successful entertainment was given under the auspices of the Court.

Several committees had been arranging for the affair for several months, and not a hitch occurred to mar the pleasure of the evening.

A BACHELOR SUPPER.

A bachelor supper was given recently at the home of William and Richard Kelly who reside on Haywards avenue. The affair was chaperoned by Thomas Ross and Frank Gonsalves, the only married men present. The party met early in the evening and devoted several hours to playing cards after which the balance of the evening and morning was spent repasting.

The dinner was voted a success by all present. Lucien Godchaux, one of the party acted as chef of the occasion, assisted by William Muntz. The hosts acted as waiters and filled their places in a most becoming manner. The supper proved to be such and enjoyable affair that the bachelors did not break up until three o'clock in the morning.

Those present were: Thomas Ross, Frank Gonsalves, William and Richard Kelly, Lucien Godchaux, William Muntz, Hugh Kimball, Frank Knightly, Dawson Gates, James Tormey and Thomas W. Tierney.

A MUSICAL AFFAIR.

A musical entertainment was given recently at the Central Hotel, which was attended by only a few invited guests. The entertainment included musical selections by the Misses Violet and Winifred Johnson, daughters of Charles R. Johnson. The young ladies are performers on the piano and cornet. Both young women are residents of San Francisco, and expect to spent a few weeks' vacation in San Leandro, where they may be induced by friends to give a concert shortly.

A PUMPING PLANT.

A. S. Vager has recently had an electric pumping plant installed at his place near San Leandro. The pump will be operated by a two-horse power electric motor, which was installed by Henry Reichrath.

WILL LEAVE SHORTLY.

Dr. P. A. Mariotte will leave here Friday for a three-weeks' vacation in the mountains.

WILL HAVE LIGHTS.

The new cottage of J. J. Costa, on Callen avenue is being wired for electric lights.

AT THE YOSEMITE.

The family of A. J. Roberts is spending the summer in the Yosemite.

MRS. HACKETT IMPROVING.

Mrs. M. H. Hackett is gradually recovering from a severe illness.

PENN'S OLD CHURCH.

The English Vicar Asks Philadelphians to Aid in Its Preservation.

The Rev. Dr. B. J. S. Kerby, vicar of William Penn's church, in the town of Amersham Buck, England, has come to Philadelphia to ask the aid of its citizens in saving the famous old country structure from ruin. It is built of stone and has stood for seven centuries, but now the wood work under the tiles of the roof is rotten and the tower needs repair.

A curious story comes out about an incident in connection with the old church which created quite a stir when it happened two years ago. Dr. Kerby, who had just been appointed to the living by Lord Howe, observed that the old Penn pew had about rotted to pieces, and so he had it taken out, thinking it of no value, and threw it into the paddock as rubbish.

The story of its removal came to the ears of a sharp London dealer in antiquities, and he did not waste any time in journeying down to the quiet little country town vicarage. The country parson, not learned in the worldly methods of shrewd city dealers, was surprised and pleased when he was offered £5 for the rubbish, as he considered it, and had that much more money for the poor.

The dealer gathered up his treasure and in a couple of weeks had sold the whole to relic hunters in Pennsylvania, realizing the enormous profit of £225.

Dr. Kerby was averse to talking on the subject when seen Thursday, and said that he did not know who the Pennsylvanians were who had bought the relics. He also refused to reveal the name of the London dealer.

The same man, he said, tried to buy an old silver vessel which had been treasured in the church for centuries. But the vicar had eaten of the bitter fruit of experience and refused point-blank to sell it.

The pulpit, 300 years old, now in the church, was originally in the old Curzon street chapel, which was recently torn down by the Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt, who bought the property for other uses. The late Lord Howe purchased the pulpit and presented it to Penn church. The pulpit is mentioned in Thackeray's book "The Newcomes" and is made of paneled oak.—Philadelphia North American.

WON BY A SOLDIER CYRANO.

A new version of "Cyrano de Bergerac" with two soldier boys and Miss Mary Elizabeth Jeffries of Phoenix, Md., in the leading roles has appeared.

Miss Jeffries was engaged to a young man who enlisted in the army. He was sent out to Wyoming, and there became "chummy" with James Sullivan, a member of his regiment. To Sullivan he confided his secret, and when ordered to the Philippines he asked Sullivan to correspond with Miss Jeffries in his behalf.

Sullivan complied. The correspondence soon involved an exchange of photographs, and the proxy became the accepted suitor.

Miss Jeffries said nothing about it to her family, and their first information came in the shape of a newspaper announcement that Sullivan had come on from Wyoming and married her at Woodbury last Saturday.—New York World.

Safe From Summer Complaints

All mammas, and papas too for that matter, dread the heat of summer with it's danger for the little folks, especially the babies. It is simply heart-breaking to read year after year about the great death rate among children caused by the summer's heat. Yet it is easy to protect the infants against all summer complaints, because we know that all these fearful perils have their beginning in stomach and bowel troubles, and we have a perfect family medicine that will keep the delicate machinery in a child's body clean, regular and in healthy working order in the hottest weather—CASCARETS Candy Cathartic. The plump, bouncing, crowing baby shown here is a CASCARET baby. He feels that way winter and summer. Nursing mammas take a CASCARET at bedtime, and it makes their mother's milk mildly purgative and keeps the baby just right. Older children like to take the fragrant, sweet little candy tablet, and are safe from colic, gripes, diarrhoea, summer rash, prickly heat and all the mean troubles that summer brings with it.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

The report of the City Auditor shows that the financial condition of the municipality has undergone an agreeable change from what it was at the beginning of the last fiscal year. It is not what it should be now, but the City Treasury is at least on a solvent basis. When the last fiscal year opened there was a deficit of $26,000 representing accrued and unpaid statutory salaries, and the amount of revenue estimated by the Auditor gave but a gloomy promise of affairs soon being in a better condition. Yet there is a manifest improvement, and at the close of this year the municipality will be able to present a still better balance sheet. While there is still a trifling deficiency, it is too small for serious consideration, and the revenue for the year will show a substantial increase over last year's income. The increase will be both in property taxes and saloon licenses. But for the $4,000 expended out of the street fund on the Adeline sewer the city would have begun the new year with an actual cash balance. As it is, there will be more money for street work than has been available for several years past. This is an assurance that will be exceedingly gratifying to the public, for the continuous neglect of our streets and sewers has been the source of the most grievous complaint.

Aside from the ordinary budget, the money now in the Park and Boulevard fund available for the improvement of the Twelfth street dam is a clear gain for a most important work. The amount available approximates $35,000, or between four and five thousand dollars less than the cost of the improvement estimated by the City Engineer. If this sum and the $4,000 expended on the Adeline street sewer be added to the $26,000 carried over salaries, it will be seen that the financial condition of the city has been improved during the past year to the extent of over $60,000. This is progress indeed, and progress in the right direction. It has been made by the exercise of the most rigid economy, but rigid economy was necessary to lift the city's credit out of the slough of insolvency. The showing is one the Council and the Board of Public Works can well feel proud of because they have met an exigency in the city's affairs more satisfactorily than was thought possible a year ago.

JUDGE PATERSON.

The late Van R. Paterson illustrated the opportunities of American democracy and the character of its best citizenship. Sprung from the humblest walks of life, he was practically self educated and self-made, yet he had the polish and dignity of a man who possessed in youth all the advantages that wealth and social station can give. He was not ashamed of the fact that his family was poor and obscure, and in his presence one felt that it is in the power of men of native force and ability to grasp the graces of social culture as well as command the recognition due intellectual strength and capacity.

His career was singularly successful measured by the highest standards of human effort. He began at the plow and died an eminent private citizen having voluntarily laid down one of the most honorable and exalted offices in the gift of the people. He was only 53 years when his life closed. Judge Paterson was for nearly eight years on the Superior Bench and for an equal length of time was a Justice of the Supreme Court. With several years yet to serve he laid aside the ermine to return to private life and the practice of a profession in which he took rank with the foremost. No better testimonial to his ability and character could be borne than the fact that he was on the Superior bench before he was thirty and on the Supreme bench before he was forty.

As a jurist Judge Paterson was distinguished by breadth of view and clarity of judgment. To his profound knowledge of the principles of jurisprudence was added an intellectual independence which invested his decisions with strength and originality. He possessed the inestimable quality of judicial courage in a rare degree. No man ever accused Judge Paterson of being swayed by interest or awed by power. His native quality impressed his associates on the bench perhaps more than it did the public at large, and thus respect for his opinions and confidence in his representations served him in splendid stead when he stepped down from the bench to take his place as a practitioner at the bar.

By the death of Judge Paterson the State loses a strong and useful citizen whose life testifies to what unaided effort may achieve and whose career exemplifies all that is best in American politics. His was a robust, honorable, courageous soul untainted by the vices of a sordid age or the hypocricies of the namby-jamby school of political purists who propose to purify public life by emasculating its virility and purpose.

Florida's Big Caravansary Sold.

The Tampa Bay Hotel has been sold to a syndicate represented by T. J. Scott of Montgomery, Ala. The Tampa Bay Hotel was built in 1888-9 to promote the growth of Tampa, which at that time had a population of 1,900, and to popularize the line of travel to Havana via the Plant railroad and steamship lines.

The hotel has the distinction of being the best specimen of Oriental architecture in the United States.

Mr. Plant at the time of building was looked upon as visionary. Tampa now has a population of 28,000, and Mr. Plant's estate is valued at $24,000,000. The price agreed upon is understood to be about what the hotel and thirty acres of land cost, not including the cost of furniture, $1,100,000—New York Times.

HARMONY IN ALAMEDA.

All loyal Republicans must feel gratified that the party in this county will not be torn by factional divisions during this campaign, and that the contentions which embittered the past have been eliminated or harmonized. This gives promise for more energetic campaign work and a larger majority next November. For that reason the rapproachment of the Republican leaders is a matter of moment to Republicans throughout the State. To them it carries a better feeling and a more hopeful prospect, because it means greater unity and strength.

To Alameda Republicans it means much more. The voice of this county will now be heeded and respected in the State Convention. When the places on the ticket are to be assigned candidates from Alameda must be among the first considered. Here is where we give the Republican majorities and here is where the first honors should come. With the return of harmony there will also be a return of the pristine potency of Alameda in State politics, with an added claim to recognition.

Alameda county casts the largest Republican majority in the State. It is the most reliable Republican county in California. Besides that, it is the third county in the State in point of wealth and population. Its inhabitants have no superior in culture and general intelligence. That a county so powerful and intelligent should fritter away its influence in politics by factional disputes of a domestic character has been a standing reflection on us for several years past. It has been the reproach of Alameda county that the Republicans here have been unable to get together and stand together on any proposition other than some individual candidacy. At last it looks as if all this had been changed. We are to have harmony that actually means harmony and unity that is more than mere acquiescence to truces and understandings. It means that the delegates from Alameda county are going to stand together clear down the line, and that they are going to bring home the Gubernational nomination if hard work and united effort can accomplish it. Failing in that, the county must receive ample recognition in making up the ticket. This year the Alameda Republicans are going to fight for each other and not against each other.

BIBLICAL LOVE SONGS.

The so-called Song of Solomon is not the work of one poet, but a late post-Exilic collection of popular nuptial songs and love-dittles, which may all have been sung at Hebrew weddings, although they were not originally composed for this purpose. They were probably compiled in the neighborhood of Damascus after the beginning of the Seleucidan era (312 B. B.) In Palestine the autumn is the usual time for weddings; after the harvest, says Dalman is the introduction to his Palestinian Divan, the young men have leisure and also money to pay for the brides, but in the country east of the Jordan, especially in the neighborhood of Damascus, the majority of the weddings take place during March, which is the most beautiful month of the year. This Springtide of Love is described in the beautiful poem which we find in the second chapter of the Song of Solomon, and from which I quote a single extra:

Hark! dearest mine,
Behind, he is coming,
Over mountains leaping,
Over hillocks skipping.
Behold, he is standing
Behind our wall there!
From windows I peer down,
Through lattices peeping.
Arise, my darling!
Ah, come my fair one!

The most beautiful poem of these Biblical love-ditties is contained in verses 6 and 7 of the last chapter, which must be preceded by the beginning of the third chapter:

At night, as I lay on my pillow,
For him whom I love was I longing,
I will rise and fare forth through the city
Both through streets that are wide and are narrow.

For Love as Death is strong,
And Passion as Sheol unyielding.
Its flames are flames of fire,
Its flashes are flashes of lightning.

Nothing is able to quench it,
Neither can any streams drown it.
If one should resign for it all his possessions,
Could any man therefore contemn him?

If the Song of Solomon is nothing a collection of profane love-ditties in praise of sensual love, some might raise the question whether the Song of Songs is not out of place in the Bible. It is nowhere cited in the New Testament. The great Hebraist, J. D. Michaelis, of the University of Gottingen, omitted the Song of Songs from his critical translation of the Bible. Prof. Franz Delitzch of Leipsic, one of the foremost Biblican scholars of the nineteenth century, and one of the most devout Christians I ever met in my life, stated in the introduction to his commentary on the Song of Solomon that this book was the most difficult book in the Old Testament, but the meaning becomes perfectly plain, in fact too plain, as soon as we know that it is not an allegorical dramatic poem but a collection of popular love-ditties which must be interpreted on the basis of the erotic imagery in the Talmud and modern Palestinian and other Mohamedan poetry.

LABOR UNION CHURCH.

A labor union church, with the rich excluded, is the latest proposal of organized labor in Indiana. The project is an interesting departure from the Biblical ideal of the rich and the poor meeting together before the Lord, who is the Maker of them all. With a membership limited to those in good and regular standing in trades unions, and with the running expenses paid by "assessments"—as if for a strike—the success of the new evangelical venture would seemed to be assured. We presume there would be a stringent rule against long sermons; twenty minutes, with a leaning to the side of mercy, was Mr. Evarts' idea and a labor union congregation would have peculiar advantages in enforcing it. They could rattle their pew doors, or all get up and go out, on the stroke of the clock, just as they drop their happers on week days.—New York Evening Post.

KIPLING'S LATEST.

Rudyard Kipling has written a short poem as his contribution to the British Navy League's Guide to the Naval Review. The three stanzas of which the poem is composed deal with the gathering of colonial representatives at the coronation. The last verse is as follows:

'Twixt my house and thy house what word can there be
Of headship or lordship or service or fee?
Since thy house to my house none lesser can bring
Than my house to thy house—King counseling King;
And my house to thy house none greater can send
Than thy house to my house—friend counseling friend.

MAKING READY FOR A BATH.

Colonel Harry Hall has just returned from a Western trip. He says that on a journey across the prairies he stopped with a farmer for the night. He asked if he could have a bath, for he was dusty and travel-stained.

"Certain," replied the farmer. Then he shouted to his son: "Jim, get the fixin's for a bath for this yer gent."

Jim came back with a towel, a chunk of soap and a pickaxe.

"What's that pickaxe for?" asked "Oh," said Jim, "you'll have to dam up the crick."—New York World.

GOV. GAGE AT HEADQUARTERS.

HE WILL REMAIN IN THE SOUTH UNTIL AFTER THE PRIMARIES.

LOS ANGELES, July 29. — Governor Gage arrived from the North yesterday, immediately repaired to the Hollenbeck Hotel and opened his campaign headquarters. The Governor expressed himself as exceedingly well satisfied with existing conditions in the North and is confident of being renominated for Governor. He declared that he would take personal charge of his campaign in this part of the State and devote his time and energy to it until after the primaries. The Governor would not at this time hazard a guess as to how many delegates he would have in the State Convention. He was kept very busy all day shaking hands and greeting his friends and constituents.

Senator Morgan insisted in the Senate yesterday that Nicaraugua offers the only feasible canal route, and those who champion the other route are talking through their Panamas.

It is hoped King Edward appreciates the thirty-minute chat with J. Pierpont Morgan. Mr. Morgan gave him several million dollars' worth of his time and got nothing in return.

The Rosedale man whose dinner pail was robbed of $200 is entitled to Congressional relief. He was promised "Four years more of the full dinner pail," and he has had little more than a year of it."

NICKNAMES OUT OF STYLE.

The present fashion of using the full Christian names of persons young or old, when addressing them, instead of a nickname, as used to be the rule, is a more sensible thing to do than fashion usually prescribes, but why it should be counted a crime for an intimate friend, in a moment of forgetfulness, to revert to the old nickname, it is hard to understand.

To call her child "Bessie" as once she was called, rouses the ire of the parent of "Elizabeth." "Anne" brings you up with a frown and a sharp reminder should you call her "Annie," though you may never, in her case, have learned of the change from the old style. "Will," as a rule, doesn't care a fig himself what you call him, but be quite sure his mother does, and will say to you approvingly, "William, if you please," if you chance to call him "Willie." Two persons who had been close friends had a quarrel which parted them for life over one's persistence in calling the child of the other "Babe," instead of "Gladys," which was her name.—Detroit Free Press.

A DUTY OF PARENTS.

A boy 15 years old, who had successfully worked to the head of his class in a Hoboken grammar school, and who was to have been the class valedictorian, developed an affection of the heart and after the examination was so exhausted that he took to his bed. He was anxious for his diploma, and to please him in his sickness the school authorities made it out and gave it to his teacher to present to him, but before the teacher reached his home he had died. And the reflection is that this is one of the tragedies of overstudy and a testimony to the barbarity of a strenuous school system. Of this individual case we know nothing, but of such cases in general it is not unjust to say that they are the tragedies of unreasonable parental ambition and testimony to the negligence and recklessness of fathers and mothers. It is an extraordinary boy who at 15 years old determines of himself to go to the head of his grammar school class and to be the valedictorian, and most boys can be implicitly trusted not to allow such an ambition to injure their health. Teachers and parents and tasks and even the system are usually futile in their attacks upon the boy's physical system, so far as study is concerned. So when a boy who needs restraint does appear, nothing is more obvious to a discerning mind than that the first duty is to restrain him, and that no parent can honorably shift that duty to the teacher or put the blame for its nonobservance upon the course of study or upon the school system. That so many boys escape alive and well is proof sufficient that a boy need not be killed by his school, but if the parent does not make sure that he is not being killed, who will? That is what parents are for.—Harper's Weekly.

ROUTINE WORK OF CITY COUNCIL

MANY MATTERS OF PUBLIC INTEREST ARE PASSED UPON BY CITY FATHERS.

At a meeting of the City Council last night there were present Councilmen Bishop, Courtney, Cuvellier, Fitzgerald, Wixson, Wallace and President Schaffer.

BOARD OF EQUALIZERS.

The Council first met as a City Board of Equalizers, but as there was no business to be transacted, the meeting adjourned until August 4, at which time applications for reductions on the County Assessor's estimates will be heard.

SEWER PROTEST.

James McElroy appeared before the Council to protest against the sewer assessment levied on the property owners on the south side of Seventh street between Washington and Clay streets for a sewer located on the north side of Seventh street.

McElroy protested against the payment of the sewer assessment on the ground that the work was done for the benefit of the people on the opposite side of the street, and on the ground that the contract price of $1.29 per foot was excessive. He said there was already a sewer on Seventh street on the south side and that he did not see the use of paying for another.

Cuvellier asked the protestant if the people on the north side had not assisted in paying for the sewer on the south side, and if it would not be fair to ask the people on the south side to reciprocate?

McElroy replied that the people could now sewer across the street if they wished.

C. Brunning, who resides on the north side of Seventh street, stated he had paid his pro rata of the first sewer and thought it was just that the north side residents should bear a portion of the burden.

The Council decided to refer the question of the legality of the assessment to the City Attorney for an opinion and report upon the question of sustaining or overruling the protest at the next meeting of the City Council.

TUBERCULOSIS CIRCULAR.

A resolution was introduced authorizing the Board of Health to print 15,000 circulars dealing with the prevention and means of eradicating tuberculosis. The circulars are to be printed at a cost not to exceed $100. The resolution was referred to the Auditing and Finance Committee.

SHOW WINDOWS.

The resolution prohibiting all merchants from extending show windows beyond the inside line of the sidewalk was indefinitely postponed. When it came up in the meeting of the Committee of the Whole. The consensus of opinion was that those who do not enjoy the privilege might will take exception to those who already are exercising the right. For that reason it was thought best to shelve the resolution permanently.

The Committee of the Whole also recommended the appropriation of $600 to repair 600 feet of wooden culvert on Broadway, south of Forty-ninth street.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Granting to C. Helmke permission to erect a frame building on east side of Franklin street, north of Fifteenth street. Adopted.

Authorizing the Board of Health to print 15,000 circulars relative to tuberculosis, at a cost not to exceed $100. Referred to Auditing and Finance Committee.

Granting Hutchinson, Ransome Company permission to curb, grade and macadamize Twentieth street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues. Adopted.

Appropriating $449 for the repair of wooden box intercepting sewer running in northwesterly direction from the manhole at First and Union streets. Adopted.

Granting permission to Hutchinson, Ransome Company to grade, curb and macadamize Piedmont avenue, from Broadway to northern boundary of city. Adopted.

Fixing wages of foreman of carpenter crew at $3.50 and also fixing wages of foreman of sewer flushers at $4.00, and of flushers at $3.00. Adopted.

Authorizing the payment of the claims of J. H. Oley, $20; Hillhouse & Reardon, $107.25; C. H. Bradshaw, $7.50; Hillhouse & Reardon, $12.40. Referred to the Auditing and Finance Committee.

Directing the janitor of the City Hall to have the office of the City Clerk repapered and painted at a cost not to exceed $50, and to have necessary repairs made at a cost not to exceed $200. Referred to the Auditing and Finance Committee.

Authorizing the expenditure of $75 by the Superintendent of Streets for the purchase of new office maps, to be appropriated from the Street Fund of the next fiscal year. Adopted.

Authorizing the Board of Public Works to resurface with Asphaltex flux East Twelfth street, between Eighth and Eleventh avenues, and appropriating $449 from the Street Fund for same. Adopted.

Ordering paid July salaries of officials and employes of the City of Oakland, and directing the Auditor to draw warrants for same. Adopted.

Granting C. Helmke permission to erect a frame building on the east side of Franklin street, north of Fifteenth street. Adopted.

PETITIONS AND PROTEST.

Petitions and protests were disposed of as follows:

Of Geo. R. Crane and others for fire hydrant at corner of East Eleventh street and Twenty-eighth avenue. Referred to Fire and Water Committee.

From H. N. Morse for an electric light at junction of Hanover and Wayne avenues. Referred to Street Committee.

From City Attorney Johnson, asking for extension telephone in his office. Referred to Auditing and Finance Committee.

From E. P. Cook to be granted privilege of reinsuring old library building at rate of $4.80 for three years. Referred to Finance Committee.

Of the Ladies' Relief Society to have a sidewalk constructed on the south side of Forty-fifth street. Referred to the Street Committee.

LIQUOR BONDS.

The following liquor bonds were approved: E. Scott and A. E. Poole, 1466½ Seventh street; P. Hanrahan, 1072 Broadway; Hennings Bros., 811 Alice street.

FACED AN AWFUL PROBLEM.

It was a strange problem that confronted Fireman Joseph Holsworth at a fire in Williamsburg today. The fire was in his own home, No. 954 Broadway, one of a row of four-story tenements. Mounting a ladder at a window, he found his aged mother and his wife.

He could not save both at once. He took his mother and left his wife to jump. She did jump, and was injured internally. The mother, who was 74 years old, wriggled from his arms as he was carrying her down the ladder and was also injured.

Three others in the house were injured.—New York Correspondence Philadelphia Inquirer.

EDUCATORS PLAN TO OPEN THE SCHOOLS.

OIL RETORT ON FIRE AT THE FACTORY AT THE WEST END.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—A special meeting of the Board of Education has been called for tonight, at which time important matters relative to the opening of the schools will be arranged.

It has been definitely announced that the schools of this city will open next Monday morning.

A meeting of all the teachers will be held next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time they will be enrolled. Professor Hughes will also address the meeting, giving the teachers their final instructions.

With the opening of the schools this term the cooking system will be introduced. A room in each building has been specially fitted up for the cooking department, which is an addition that will be greatly appreciated.

HE CRIED IN COURT.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—George Anderson, who was arrested Sunday night for fighting in a Park street saloon, was yesterday dismissed by Justice Morris upon the earnest plea of the prisoner and his pretty wife.

It appears that Anderson, after being ejected from the saloon, came back to whip the man who had thrown him out. He carried a large knife and announced his intention of causing trouble. As a result of his return to the saloon Anderson was knocked down several times by the man he threatened and finally placed in jail on a charge of disturbing the peace. In court he broke down and cried.

OIL RETORT ON FIRE.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—One of the oil retorts at the oil works at the West End caught fire Sunday afternoon and burned for several hours. The employes of the works were compelled to let the fire burn out, as nothing could be done to extinguish it. They were successful, however, in keeping the flames from spreading to adjacent buildings. The damage done by the fire was slight.

FORFEITED HIS BAIL.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—H. Eaton, who was arrested recently for being intoxicated, failed to appear in court yesterday afternoon and forfeited $6.00 bail that he had deposited.

UNITARIAN SERVICES.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—On Sunday next services will be resumed by Rev. B. Fay Mills in the Unitarian Church of this city.

RESERVED SEAT EXCURSIONS.

People interested in an up-to-date excursion into a charming country and those who would appreciate owning a little, inexpensive country home should read the announcement of the North Shore Railroad on page 3.

SMALL BOYS BATTLE IN THE STREET

A little mite of a newsboy, scarce 9 years old, was in the Police Court this morning charged with battery upon a newsboy smaller than himself. The charge was preferred by A. A. Ambrose, who says that the two boys were engaged in a fight over some trivial matter and as the smaller boy was getting the worst of the argument, he interfered and took the older boy to the City Prison. The lad said his name was Len Harris.

On the motion of Prosecuting Attorney Leach the case was stricken from the calendar, as it was shown that the officers of a children's home would look after the future welfare of the youth.

CAUGHT RIDING ON A BREAK-BEAM

Burt Hamilton, aged 15 years, was before Judge Smith in the Police Court this morning on a charge of evading the payment of his railroad fare. The youth was arrested late yesterday afternoon by State Railroad Officer F. H. Brown at the Peralta street yards as Hamilton was about to leave the city on a freight train, seated on a break-beam. The defendant will be given a hearing before Judge Smith tomorrow morning.

WOMEN AND BUSINESS MEN EFFECT COMPROMISE.

BERKELEY, July 29.—A compromise has been effected in the war that has waging between the business men of Berkeley and the ladies of the Hillside Club in regard to the disposition of the shade trees on Center street. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon attention was called to the fact that horses had attacked the elm trees only, and that the maple trees were still presentable, and added beauty to the street. As the elms alternate with the maples, the women of the club consented to having the elms cut out, thus leaving the street lined with maples. This settlement was satisfactory to the business men.

Those present at the meeting were: F. Q. Turner, acting president of the Board of Trustees; Superintendent of Streets Maloney; Mrs. A. G. Freeman and Mrs. May Robinson, representing the women of the town.

STUDENTS APPOINTED TO POSITIONS IN CHINA.

BERKELEY, July 29.—Thomas W. Haskins, a senior in the College of Letters at the State University, has been appointed student interpreter of the American Legation at Pekin. The appointment was made by President Roosevelt upon the recommendation of President Wheeler.

Haskins is the second student of the University to receive this distinction. Julian H. Arnold, a graduate with this year's class, was appointed to a similar position immediately after his graduation. Both young men will leave in about a month to assume their new duties.

For two years Arnold and Haskins will devote themselves to the study of Chinese. At the end of the two years they may be detailed for duty as interpreters or assistants in the Legation and Consulates of China, where they may be required to perform other official duties in addition to those of an interpreter.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE DR. BALDWIN TOMORROW.

The funeral of the late Dr. Sherman Charles Baldwin, who died Sunday at the advanced age of 70 years, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence, 1217 Twenty-fifth avenue. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the California Lodge No. One, F. and A. M. Remains will be interred in Mountain View Cemetery.

Dr. Baldwin was a native of Cleveland, Ohio, and was the grandson of the late Judge J. Kingsberry, one of the earliest settlers of Ohio.

Paine's Celery Compound

NATURE'S SUMMER HEALTH GIVER.

It Purifies the Blood and Multiplies the Number of Vital Red Corpuscles, Feeds the Nerves and Tissues and Gives True Physical Strength.

Weak nerves, exhausted tissue, poor, thin blood, impaired digestion and sleepless nights, account for much of the present existing summer misery and suffering.

Dear reader, if you are unfortunately numbered amongst the sickly and weak mortals of today, it is now time to awake to a true realization of your danger. The weakening and depressing hot weather will only add to your miseries if you are careless and indifferent.

There is absolute relief and a positive cure for you in Paine's Celery Compound. This wonder-working medicine is successfully conquering such troubles as yours every day. It is a fact verified by able physicians and thousands of testimonials that Paine's Celery Compound makes new, pure, blood, builds up the nervous system, regulates digestion, whets the appetite and gives vigor and strength to combat the discomforts of the heated term.

Mrs. J. N. Morgan, Secretary, Md., used Paine's Celery Compound to banish nervous prostration, heart palpitation and insomnia. The great medicine quickly restored physical strength by purifying the blood, bracing the nerves and building up tissue; she says:

"When I began the use of Paine's Celery Compound I was suffering with nervous prostration, had palpitation of the heart and could not sleep. When I first went to bed I would sleep one or two hours, but would wake with a start. I would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. Now, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I can eat and sleep well and wake up in the morning feeling refreshed and strong."

HE WAS HURLED AGAINST A TELEPHONE POLE.

Ilin Kirikow, a driver in the employ of the Peterson Grocery Company, was thrown against a telephone pole yesterday afternoon at the corner of Eighth and Webster streets and seriously injured while attempting to control a runaway horse. The injured driver was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where fifteen stitches were taken in a lacerated scalp wound.

THE PARISIAN RAGPICKERS.

Very many of the Parisian ragpickers will be thrown out of employment by the contemplated scheme of the Municipal Council for the collection of the city rubbish. The chiffoniers, who number about 75,000, and have a corporation of their own, may be depended upon to fight for their interests and not to succumb tamely to innovations. In 1832, when the cholera raged in Paris, a number of newly invented dust carts, intended to clear the streets of rubbish quickly, were promptly smashed by the ragpickers. On that occasion the authorities yielded to their violence, and relegated the proposed reforms to some future period. The chiffoniers are now taking steps to have their cause pleaded before the city fathers.—London Chronicle.

A Great Dane Dog's Leap to His Little Master.

A great Dane dog belonging to Otto Smith, who lives at Greenpoint, while on the roof of his master's house on Decoration Day heard the voice of his master's little son in the yard, and in order to get to him leaped thirty feet to an extension and thence twenty feet from the extension to the yard.

Before making the leap the animal began to whine, and his whines attracted the attention of many people, and when the dog made his perilous jump it was expected that he had been killed. To the astonishment of every one the animal escaped without a scratch, and upon reaching the side of his master's son began to lick his hand.

Mr. Smith had put the dog upon the roof because of the animal's dislike for drums, and so that he would not become frightened.—New York Times.

SAMPLE OF CHICAGO ENGLISH.

At a recent Police Board trial in Chicago Alderman Kunz tried to make good his charge that Police Sergeant Cullen had called him a "pup" and other names not very nice. Inspector Shea of the Board prompted the witnesses, and the result was a dialogue in extremely picturesque English. To Cullen he said:

"The Alderman thought he was the whole cheese, did he?"

"That's the size of it," replied the Sergeant.

"Was Kunz putting on a front?"

"Yes, he was trying to play the main guy."

"Did he twirl his card?"

"No, but he flashed his star."

"And you called his bluff?"

"I gave him the frozen smile."

"Then he throwed back some lip?"

"Yes, he let go some slack."

"And you handed him a hot slug?"

"I pitched him the hooks."

"Very good. As an officer you advised him to close his face?"

"Yes, as an officer I advised him to fall on himself."

"You didn't call him a—?"

"No, I didn't."

McMULLAN RELEASED FROM PRISON CELL.

Upon motion of Prosecuting Attorney Leach in the Police Court yesterday morning, the charges of obtaining money by false pretenses against F. McMullin were ordered dismissed. It was stated that all of the people to whom McMullin had given checks had been satisfied and were not willing to continue the prosecution. McMullin was arrested for passing checks while on a prolonged spree, which, while good, were worthless unless McMullin was on hand to cash them himself, as they were on a Trust Institute of which he is secretary.

CASES DISMISSED.

The case of Mike Doyle alias Kennedy and John Smith alias Charles Bristol, who were arrested on June 23d for stealing some jewelry from a booth at the Elks' Fair, was dismissed yesterday on the motion of the Prosecuting Attorney who stated that the boys had always borne a good reputation up to the time of their arrest.

DECIDEDLY NOT.

The other afternoon, when President Roosevelt reached Dupont circle, a "seeing-Washington" electric car hove in sight, and the guide continued his lecture through a megaphone in this way: "On the left we see the elegant residence of George Westinghouse, the millionaire inventor and electrician, formerly the home of the late James G. Blaine. A little to the left of front we perceive the palatial mansion of L. Z. Leiter, the Chicago millionaire, and father of the famous beauty, Miss Mary Leiter, now Lady Curzon, the wife of the Governor-General of India. In the park in front we are confronted by the statute of Admiral Dupont, and also in front we see the President of the United States on horseback."

The crowd looked, and one woman said:

"Whose statute is it, McKinley's?"

"It's Roosevelt," the guide responded. "He ain't a statue yet."—Buffalo Commercial.

SUPERVISORS SIT AS EQUALIZERS.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday morning as a Board of Equalization, but adjourned until Thursday at 9 o'clock in the morning at which time they will hear applications for reduction of the County Assessor's valuations.

A resolution was adopted during the meeting making the publication for three days of the intention of the Board to increase or decrease assessments, a sufficient notice to the owner.

W. H. Church, as executors of the estate of Teresa B. May, made application to have the assessment on the estate reduced from $4,800 to $4,000. The hearing of the application went over.

The equalizers then adjourned.

TOURISTS PLEASED WITH ALL-DAY EXCURSION.

It was a typical tourist crowd that yesterday took the "All-Day-for-a-Dollar" excursion. The party consisted of fourteen ladies and four men, and at noon, or just after lunch, several of them expressed themselves as delighted with the trip up to that time. In the afternoon they visited Haywards, San Leandro and Fruitvale.

Just before taking the train for San Francisco all of the excursionists were presented with small bouquets of flowers, the latter having been donated by the Mountain View Cemetery. The names of the excursionists as registered, are as follows: Miss F. Koss, Milwaukee, Wis.; Dr. and Mrs. Schmitz, Los Angeles; Mrs. B. Lynes, Miss L. M. Lynes, New York City; Mrs. W. R. Yost, Miss Irene Yost, Philadelphia; Miss Julia Sullivan, D. J. Sullivan, Butte, Mont.; H. C. Wilson, Selma, Cal., and D. C. Leger, Canada.

Of the eighteen the above were all who placed their names on the register. The addresses, however, prove there are very many Eastern people still sojourning in California and testing the summer climate.

GRASS FIRE RAGING ON BERKELEY HILLS.

A grass fire started yesterday afternoon in the foot hills behind the Deaf Dumb and Blind Institute at Berkeley, and burned with considerable intensity. No particular damage will ensue from the fire, it is thought, but precautions are being taken to prevent the fire destroying the groves belonging to the Institute.

YOUNG MILLS GIVEN A CALL.

OAKLAND BOY ASKED TO TAKE CHARGE OF A CHURCH AT SANTA ROSA.

SANTA ROSA, July 29.—At a meeting of the congregation of the People's Church held here a unanimous call was extended to Thornton A. Mills, son of the Rev. S. Fay Mills of the First Unitarian Church of Oakland to become pastor of the church, to succeed Jay William Hudson, founder of the church, whose resignation takes effect September 1st.

Mr. Mills made a good impression by his recent sermons in this city. The last of these, a week ago, was entitled, "The Real Jesus." The young minister is twenty-one years old and is said to possess much of the force and eloquence of his distinguished father. He was educated at Tufts College, Massachusetts, and the University of California and is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity of the Berkeley institution.

It is very probable that Mr. Mills will accept the call to the pastorate here.

A WONDERFUL AGE.

No period in the world's history has been as productive of as many wonderful inventions as the century just closed. Some of these inventions are as yet in their infancy, some of them have not been perfected to a degree that they are of any commercial value, but the brightest brains of the world are at work and it is only a matter of a few years until these too will be perfected.

Only a few years ago the correspondence of the average business man was the most arduous of his day's work, but the type-writer has changed that work into a pleasure. Not only that but he is able to talk to his customers by letter in the same way as though he was talking in person.

Talking machines are considered by many as a toy or a machine for amusement only, but they can be found on the desks of thousands of business men, doing practical work. Instead of taking up the value time of a stenographer for dictation, he dictates to a talking machine, the records are turned over to his stenographer to whom they "talk back" and in the meantime our business man is dictating to another record.

As a means of entertainment nothing equals one of these machines. They will talk, sing, whistle, they will reproduce music by the greatest bands and orchestras of the world, in fact any kind of sound is accurately reproduced—clog-dancing, chimes, neighing of a horse, laughing, etc.

We carry the largest variety and stock of talking machines and records on the Pacific Coast. We are special coast agents for the celebrated VICTOR DISC TALKING MACHINE and can sell you an instrument at prices ranging from $10 up to $75 with no advance in price if paid in installments.

Step into our store and hear one of these machines for you will be a welcome visitor, even though you do not intend buying. Kohler & Chase, 1013-1015 Broadway, Oakland, Cal.

T. H. Wallace of 115 Eleventh ave., bricklayer, says: "It was so long since I had my first attack of backache that I have forgotten the year it occurred. I was always sure to have a spell when I contracted a cold from exposure to inclement weather or after an extra hard day's work. I had an attack when I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in the local paper and I went to the Owl Drug Store for a box. In a few days the backache disappeared. I will not have the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to any of my friends and acquaintances whom I hear complaining of backache which arises from the kidneys not performing their work properly."

S. P. MAY BUILD A NEW LINE.

COMPANY NOT LIKELY TO BUILD ACROSS CARQUINEZ STRAITS.

STOCKTON, July 29.—A force of engineers is at present engaged in making a preliminary survey west of this city, and the report has gained circulation here that the Southern Pacific intends to build a direct line from Brighton, a station about five miles from Sacramento, to Antioch, so that the use of a ferry boat at Port Costa can be dispensed with.

Some weeks ago it was announced that the company was figuring on bridging the Straits of Carquinez, and would use the same road from Sacramento to Benicia, but now it is claimed that the officials have decided that a direct line west of Stockton would prove a cheaper and more profitable road than the one now in operation. The new system will tap a rich fruit and produce country along the Sacramento river, and the distance from the capital city to San Francisco would be about the same as it is at present by the west side route.

"Two or three drawbridges will have to be built, and a large bridge placed across the San Joaquin River at Antioch, yet this total expense would not be as great as the bridge across the straits. The Southern Pacific has already built a double track to Port Costa, and by constructing it to Antioch instead of double tracking the road across the bay from Benicia to Sacramento another line could be secured by the new route.

A GOOD SON, INDEED.

General Robert E. Lee's Devotion to His Mother.

Robert Edward Lee was a model at home and school, says an exchange. The death of his father when he was a lad left the mother of Robert an invalid. At once his filial love and sympathy rendered him a "son of consolation" to her. He was a pupil at school in Alexandria, and daily, at the close of the school, instead of rushing out with the boys to romp, he would hasten home on a run to wait upon his mother and see that she had her daily drive. He would help her from her sick chamber to the carriage; with affectionate care arrange the pillows for her; then, taking his seat beside her, seek eagerly to divert and entertain her mind throughout the drive. Sometimes he would exclaim, with boyish seriousness: "Mother, if you want to get well you must keep cheerful." He did the marketing for her, looked after the horses, and gave her medicine. During her last illness he mixed every drop of medicine she took. Never did mother have a nobler son.

She realized his worth, and when he left home to enter West Point, she exclaimed: "How can I live without Robert? He is both son and daughter to me."

A WISE REPLY FROM CANNY SANDY.

W. Bourke Cockran was asked what he thought of the surrender of the Boers.

"Well," he said, "it reminds me of a feud between an Irishman and a Scotsman. They had many hard battles and each claimed the victory.

"'Sure, an' ye better give in an' acknowledge loike a man that I've thrashed you,' argued Patrick after each encounter.

"'Hoot, mon,' was Sandy's invariable rejoinder, 'you could na lick a lad.'

"But Sandy was long-headed, and when Patrick declared he would give $5 if he could make Sandy acknowledge he was beaten, the Scotsman said:

"'Put the siller in my hand, mon, an' I'll surrender. You can ha' a' th' glory if you'll gi' me th' consideration.'"—From the New York Times.

This uncertainty must be very trying to Murat Halsted. He must hold his book about Mr. Fugitive Tracy in abeyance until he can determine which tense to employ.

DELAREY AND BOTHA ADVISE BOERS TO LIVE HAPPILY IN SOUTH AFRICA.

CAPE TOWN, July 29.—Generals Delarey and Botha were given an ovation yesterday at Stelenbosch. They were driven to the town hall and each of the two carriages was drawn by sixty students.

At a luncheon which followed the students acted as waiters.

General Botha in a feeling address, said the day of surrender was the most painful of his life, but now that it had been done he prayed earnestly that his hearers should consider it God's will.

Although Afrikander nationality, in a manner, had been buried, it would remain the most important factor in the social life of South Africa. General Botha p a tribute to former President Steyn's abilities as a statesman.

"Now, let us stop bothering ourselves about politics," said the General, and try to make ourselves happy in South Africa, because we have no home elsewhere."

To Preserve the Sources of the Mississippi.

One of the most important acts of the present Congress which is of especial interest to the States in the Mississippi valley is the adoption of the bill introduced by Congressman Page Morris of Duluth, providing for the creation of a national park forest reservation at the headwaters of the Mississippi.

The creation of this forest reserve in order to preserve the water supply of the Mississippi has been urged upon Congress for years, and it is largely due to the perseverance of a public-spirited Chicagoan, Col. John S. Cooper who was backed by twenty-one other Chicagoans, as well as prominent citizens of other cities, that the foundation for a most extensive forest reservation has been laid at this session.

Under the Morris bill, which has been agreed upon by conference committees of both houses, there will be a forest reserve of nearly 250,000 acres, covering the headwaters of the Mississippi, and which will be purchased from the Chippewa Indians. The advocates of a forest reserve sought to have the entire Chippewa reservation of 650,000 acres retained, but were forced to be content with reserving only 250,000 acres at this session, owing to the economical spirit that now appears to have seized Congress. The reservation of this tract, however, removes the danger that now exists that the lands of the Chippewa reservation may be denuded of timber and the sources of the great "father of waters" dried up.

Of the Chippewa reservation, 25,000 acres are covered with pine and 218,000 acres are under water, there being ninety-seven lakes and seven rivers in the tract. The bill not only represents an important beginning in the work of preserving the water supply of the Mississippi valley, but means that the government is about to undertake the scientific preservation of our forests.—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE NEW WOMAN IN JAPAN.

The Japan Women's University is said to have adopted baseball in a modified form as an exercise for its students. The modification made by a gymnastic teacher consists of increasing the number of bases to five instead of four, and of shortening the interbase distance. The field will therefore be pentagonal in shape, says the Japan Times. The heading of this note may sound objectionable, but in using it we do not of course insinuate that our "new women" behave extravagantly, as their sisters in the West are supposed to do. The creation of "new women," adopted for national requirements, is an inevitable consequence of the new state of affairs in Japan.

Ninety-four in the shade seems very torrid and insufferable, but a year ago 94 would have been considered nice and cool.

THE LAW AND THE NOSE.

French Opinion on the Chicago Court's Decision as to Cyrano.

(From the Paris Journal des Debats.)

Cyrano has just passed through an ordeal more extraordinary than all his previous adventures. The American courts have forbidden him to show his nose in the United States. This is not because the appendage is objectionable in itself. The Yankee mind is too practical to be led by simple impressions. Displicuit nasus is one of those reasons which only Latin frivolity can take as sufficient. The Anglo-Saxon races require more serious motives to come to a conclusion, and serious things are always pecuniary in a country where everything from the weather to the nose can be turned into money.

Consequently a Chicago district court has rendered a judgment, expelling from the United States the "Cyrano" of M. Rostand, after hearing the complaint of Mr. Gross, a writer whose fame has not yet reached us.

Mr. Gross is the author of a play entitled "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," the leading character in which is remarkable for the dimensions of his nose. This drama having been written before M. Rostand's, Mr. Gross had no hesitation about asserting that the French writer had shamelessly plagiarized him, and the American judges, more protectionist than their tariff, gave judgment in his favor.

This ought to be a warning to the theatrical men who might be disposed to put upon the boards some personage with a prominent nose. Ovid called himself "Nason" because Nature, which had so generously fashioned him for poetry, was quite as generous to him in the matter of the olfactory appendage. If an author should take it into his head to make a hero of the exiled poet, he must take good care not to attempt to bring out the play in America. His Ovid would be considered a rascally copy of "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," and it would be set down as a plagiarism.

Americans have sometimes been reproached for not showing proper respect for literary rights, but evidently they have mended their ways, since they have extended literary property to the nose. They go even further, because, under the decision in question, they may have some difficult cases to deal with: and, if they succeed in unraveling them, the judges may not be, like Cyrano, celebrated for the size of their noses, but will be celebrated for their scent.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. MURDER AT THE PRIMARY.

ONE KILLED AND OTHERS ARE WOUNDED IN ELECTION RIOTS.

CAMDEN, N. J., July 29.—The condition of Joe Goddard the Philadelphia pugilist who was shot last night during the Republican primary elections, is reported by the physicians today as critical. Harry Miller, a local policeman, who was stabbed in the abdomen, will probably recover.

Isaac Fowler, a costable, who was stabbed at Pensauken, was not seriously hurt.

The body of John Morrissey, of Philadelphia who was shot and killed is still at the morgue.

The riots which resulted in these casulties were caused by the bitter feeling engendered through the contest for Congress of Representative H. C. Loudenslager and J. A. Van Sant. Numerous fights occurred in this city and in Pensauken township.

The total number of delegates is 304. Loudenslager today claims 193. Van Sant claims 153 which number is necessary to a choice.

At noon today Former Sheriff David Baird, who opposed the candidacy of Mr. Loudenslager, admitted that the Congressman had secured a majority of the delegates.

WILL NOT STAND FOR FOREIGNERS

THEY CANNOT BE IMPORTED TO TAKE PLACE OF STRIKING MACHINISTS.

OMAHA, Neb., July 29.—Secretary Samuel Grace of the Machinists' Union, has received from the United States Immigration Bureau information that any attempt to import men from foreign countries to take the places of striking shopmen on railroads would receive the immediate attention of the government and that steamship companies will be made liable and compelled to return such men at their expense.

At the labor temple it was given out early today that twenty-five men had quit work in the local shops because of the piece work system and that grievance meetings are being held by the non-union men now at work, whom they claim are already dissatisfied.

DALTON'S CASE.

from the county for the plat books."

"Was it your business to make out the bills for the Enquirer?" asked Judge Ellsworth

"Yes, sir," replied Stedman.

BILLS CASHED.

"How long before the claims were presented to the county had they been made out," asked Fitzgerald.

"That I do not remember."

"You collected the money for these bills and at that time knew that Mr. Lanktree had received payment on them, did you not?"

"I knew the bills had been cashed. I new they had been passed by the Board of Supervisors."

"You knew the bills for Lanktree had been passed?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you not hold back the bills for the 59 plat books until the other bills of Mr. Lanktree had been paid?"

"No, sir. I did not."

Fitzgerald offered in evidence three bills for the books furnished on the substitute order. Foote objected, claiming they were not competent, were immaterial and not proper on cross-examination.

"We claim we have a right to introduce the bills," said Fitzgerald to show why the other claims were not presented. We propose to show that the claims were withheld by Stedman until Mr. Lanktree's other claims were paid. We want to show why the claims were not presented, and will endeavor to show that it was a part of the conspiracy between Hadley and Stedman to make it unpleasant for Mr. Daniels, and Mr. Dalton because he was connected with the Enquirer. We want to introduce these bills to show fraudulent intent."

FOOTE'S CHARGE.

"What have these claims to do with the charge against Dalton?" asked Foote. "He is charged with having presented a false claim against the county for thirty mortgage books and is on trial on that charge and no other. Mr. Fitzgerald wants to show that the substitute claims were paid. What defense is that? I defy Mr. Fitzgerald to show that any one but Dalton received the money on the claims. The young man on the witness stand did not receive any of the money. It all went into Dalton's pockets and it remained there until the day this case was brought to trial. Mr. Fitzgerald says he proposes to show that the claims were withheld to get Daniels and Dalton into difficulties. That is a mere subterfuge and I charge him with it here and now. He is merely attempting to befog the jury. What has become of the affidavit made by Dalton on the day this trial was commenced stating that he had $1575 that did not belong to him and tendering the money to the county?"

FITZGERALD REPLIES.

Snook—We object and take an exception to the remarks of special counsel for the prosecution.

Fitzgerald—Mr. Foote's statements are not true. Mr. Dalton did not state in his affidavit that he had $1,575 belonging to the county, and I believe you knew that when you made that statement.

"I deny that statement and stamp it as untrue," declared Foote heatedly.

"You cannot brow beat me," retorted Fitzgerald, bringing his fist down on the table. I will make you know what I believe in the matter."

"Gentlemen," interrupted Judge Ellsworth. "I will not have any more of this sort of thing during this trial. Outside of the court room you may quarrel as much as you choose, but not here. If you do not desist, the Court will find a way to stop it."

"When counsel makes such remarks," said Fitzgerald, "I contend I have a right to reply."

"I will call your attention to one thing Mr Foote," said Judge Ellsworth. "That is, you referred to an affidavit that has not been introduced in evidence here and of which the court has no knowledge."

"That statement was called forth by the remarks of counsel for the defense," replied Foote. "If Mr. Dalton did not have $1,575 that did not belong to him why did he turn the money over to the county. When the Court reflects on the way I have been treated all through this case I am sure it will find that I have not been given a fair square deal. This young counsel has been trying to brow beat me on every turn. But I do not ask protection. I am equal to protect myself. If I cannot get justice in this court, I can get it elsewhere."

"I do not think the last remarks of Mr. Foote were called for," said Judge Ellsworth. "They were neither courteous to the Court or counsel."

"During all the years I have practiced law," said Fitzgerald, "I have tried to be courteous and fair and this is the first time in my life I have been called on for an apology. I offer the apology, but when such remarks are made as those uttered by Mr. Foote, I am compelled to reply, even if I have to quit the practice of law for it."

"Gentlemen, if you will remember the admonishment given to you before in this case to address all of your remarks to the Court, as you are now doing, instead of addressing each other, this difficulty will be avoided. We will now proceed with the case."

Attorney Fitzgerald then read the affidavit made by Stedman accusing Daniels and Dalton of conspiring to defraud the county, preparatory to examining the witness upon it. An adjournment was then taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Fitzgerald continued his cross-examination of Russell R. Stedman this afternoon, with the evident purpose of bringing out discrepancies in the witness' present testimony as compared with the testimony he gave before the Grand Jury.

Stedman said he was not sure whether he met Oakes first on the day the claims were made out on the inside or the outside of Dalton's office.

The conversation with Oakes took place before witness had the conversation with Dalton.

Oakes said very little. Then Dalton called witness into his private office and asked him to discount the bills.

"According to my best recollection, Oakes said he had tried to sell the claim to Lanktree and failed," said Stedman.

Witness then testified that he had discounted the bill against the county for 59 books and had given the money to Henry P. Dalton. He had also discounted a bill of the Enquirer's for $544 and given the money to Dalton.

He also discounted another bill against the county for books to be supplied the Assessor's office and given the money to Dalton.

"Did you tell Mr. Daniels about this?" asked Fitzgerald.

"No," said Stedman; "he had previously told me to do what Henry told me."

"Did you tell Hadley?"

"No."

"If you did not tell them, why did you make the affidavit containing the charges against Mr. Dalton and Mr. Daniels?"

"The matter came out in the Collins suit. It was charged in the complaint that Mr. Dalton had received money belonging to the Enquirer. Mr. Dalton called me into his office and told me I would have to take the responsibility. He said Mr. Daniels will protect you and I will look out for the Enquirer's interests."

"Did you hypothecate any other claims for books for the Assessor's office?"

"Yes. I hypothecated a claim for sixty books last January.

"What did you do with the money?"

"Gave it to Mr. Dalton."

GAVE DALTON MONEY.

"How much did you give him?"

"$800."

"From whom did you get the money?"

"From Mr. Hadley."

"Did you give the money you got from Hadley to Dalton?"

"No, Hadley didn't want to be known in the transaction, and I took the money in currency to J. B. Lanktree, who gave me a check drawn to cash. I cashed this and gave the money to Dalton."

"To whom was the claim assigned?"

"To J. B. Lanktree."

"Why was it assigned to him?"

"The money Mr. Hadley gave me belonged to his sister-in-law, and he did not want to appear in the matter."

"Were those sixty books ever made?"

"Yes."

"Yes."

"Were they ever delivered?"

"Not to the county."

"Where are they?"

"In J. B. Lanktree's office."

"Who took them there?"

"I did."

"Who instructed you to take them there?"

"Nobody."

"Why did you take them there?"

"To protect Mr. Hadley and Lanktree."

"Is it not a fact that you purposely held back the bill for the 59 books till after the Oakes bills were allowed and paid?"

"No."

"Was this bill not held out by arrangement between yourself and Hadley so that the Oakes bills might be paid first?"

"No, sir."

"Why was payment on this bill delayed?"

"I think it was because the books had all been delivered. I know of no other reason for the delay."

"Did you swear to the bill before the work was done?"

"No, sir."

"You know the Board of Supervisors sat five days in October when bills were allowed?"

"Yes."

"Why was this claim not presented then?"

"I think it was because the books were not all delivered. I think I said some thing to Deputy Clerk Mason about it. If my memory is correct Mr. Read told me the work was all done, but I discovered later that this was incorrect."

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

When THE TRIBUNE went to press yesterday Russell Stedman was still on the stand.

"Who did you give the checks to?"

"To Mr. Nusbaumer."

Foote interrupted to say he was perfectly willing to admit that the checks were photographed and that they were obtained from Lanktree for the purpose of having them photographed.

"Did you go to District Attorney Allen and offer to swear to a complaint against Mr. Dalton and Mr. Daniels?"

Foote interposed an objection, but it was overruled.

"I did."

"Why did you do so?"

"Mr. Nusbaumer said it would be a good thing for me to do, as I was mixed up in the matter."

"Had you any enmity against Mr. Dalton and Mr. Daniels at that time?"

"No, I was only trying to protect myself."

"On the day you made the affidavit were you at the Enquirer office?"

"Yes."

"You were still in the employ of the Enquirer?"

"Yes."

"You were working for the Enquirer the very day you made the affidavit?"

"Yes, I did some work that day."

"Did you ever tell your employer, Mr. Daniels, that these books had never been furnished?"

"I told Mr. Hadley; he was the business manager at the time."

"Did Mr. Hadley tell you to keep still about it?"

An objection was overruled, and witness said Hadley did not tell him to keep still at that time. "I admit," he added, "that Mr. Hadley did tell me to keep quiet about it."

"Did you not have a conversation about this order a few days after the 19th of August about this book order in which Mr. Hadley told you to keep still about it?"

"I think it was six or seven weeks after that he told me to keep quiet."

"If you had done nothing wrong yourself why did you think it necessary to swear out warrants against Mr. Dalton and Mr. Daniels, who had always been your friends?"

"I had hypothecated the claims and there was a subsequent affair that might be made to look bad for me."

"Is it not a fact that you had committed wrong acts in other matters yourself, and made the charges against Mr. Dalton and Mr. Daniels to shield yourself?"

"No sir. They had got me to make out the claims and sell them. And they had gone on without telling me anything about any substitution when they knew the work had not been done and that the bills had been paid."

Did Mr. Dalton know that the bills had been paid?"

"He did, for I told him so myself."

"Where were you when you told Mr. Dalton the bills had been paid?"

"In his office. When I told him, he did not say a word, but walked away."

"Was that before you went to see Nusbaumer?"

"Yes, it was before I went to see Mr. Nusbaumer."

Stedman here said that he wished to correct his statement to the effect that he went to the District Attorney and offered to swear out warrants against Dalton and Daniels. He said he never made any such offer.

Fitzgerald sharply questioned him as to why he had given reasons for doing a thing he had never done, but Stedman said he had recalled that he never offered to swear out the warrants, and explained that he had been confused by Mr. Fitzgerald's questions so that he confounded the swearing out of a complaint with the affidavit.

TELLS OF THE CHECKS.

Stedman said he got the checks from Lanktree to show to Hadley, but could not find Hadley at the time. Then he took them to Mr. Nusbaumer.

"Did you get the checks before or after you made the affidavit?"

"After I made the affidavit."

"After you delivered the checks originally, one to Mr. Ruppricht and the other to Mr. Daniels, did you ever see them till the time you got them from Mr. Lanktree?"

"Yes."

"Where?"

"In Mr. Lanktree's office."

"How long before you made the affidavit?"

"Two or three weeks."

"Did you ask Mr. Lanktree to see them?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

"I wanted to see who cashed them."

"Why did you want to see who cashed them?"

"I had sold the claims and I knew the bills had been paid, but the books had never been furnished, and I wanted to look out for myself."

On further questioning Stedman said he was induced to look out for his own protection by the fact that Dalton told him he must take the responsibility for other transactions where Dalton had received the money derived from the sale of claims for work done by the Enquirer.

Stedman said he did not tell Lanktree at the time he first saw the checks that the books had never been furnished.

"Why did you not tell him?"

"I didn't think the matter would ever be made public. Mr. Lanktree grew very inquisitive about why I wanted to see them, but I put him off."

Witness could not tell why he changed his mind between the time he saw the checks and the day he made the affidavit, except what Mr. Nusbaumer told him at the time of making the affidavit. When advised by Nusbaumer that the making of an affidavit would tend to clear his skirts of complicity in the book affair, the latter did not state how it would clear him.

Against the objection of the prosecution the witness testified that he had written the word cancelled in the job office blotter of the Enquirer across the Oakes order.

That was in February after the bills had been paid but the books not furnished. He did so under instructions from Hadley.

In spite of repeated objections of Foote Fitzgerald pushed his inquiry into the suit of D. Edward Collins against the Enquirer, demanding to know if the witness had not frequently consulted about this matter with a view to making evidence to be used in the Collins case. Stedman admitted that he and Hadley had frequently consulted together, but denied that it was with any intent to manufacture testimony. He said he knew Hadley and others wanted to buy the paper. Hadley told him that he had consulted with counsel about this matter. When Hadley told him to keep quiet about the transaction, Hadley said he did not want it made public because it would hurt the Enquirer.

"Did you go to Mr. Warren and ask him to make an affidavit to the effect that he saw Mr. Daniels break open Hadley's desk?"

"I never went to see Warren; he came to see me."

"Didn't you ask him to make the affidavit?"

"No, he came to me and volunteered the information, and I told him he had better go to Mr. Leach and make an affidavit to what he knew."

"How came you to do that?"

"I did it at the suggestion of Mr. Hadley. Everybody in the office was interested in knowing who cut open Mr. Hadley's desk. Everybody in the office talked with Hadley about it because it was the second time the desk had been cut open."

Stedman denied that he told Warren this was a good time to get rid of Daniels, but he did tell Warren that Hadley wanted the affidavit. He may have said to Warren that Hadley was trying to get the paper. In response to further questioning, Stedman said his interest in finding out who broke open the desk was in the interest of justice. "If a burglary is committed in a house I am in I should certainly inquire into all the circumstances. Mr. Read was as much interested as anybody. Mr. Jordan, the assistant bookkeeper, came down from his house to talk to the detective."

MAYOR SCHMITZ WILL HEAR THE EVIDENCE.

Charges of Fake Will Be Investigated—Bowling on the Local Alleys—Baseball on the Home Grounds.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Mayor Schmitz has agreed to hear the evidence in the allegation of "fake" as applied to the recent fight between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries. This the Mayor has agreed to do as between man and man, owing to the difficulty in the way of bringing the case before a court of law. He has said that the two men shall have a hearing whenever they see fit to name the time. In other words the story of fake that has been circulated is to come to a "show down" and the persons responsible for the circulation of the story that the fight was not fought and won on its merits must bring forth proof of their contention.

The announcement that it was intended to sift the story that the fight was not fought and won on its merits must bring forth proof of their contention.

The announcement that it was intended to sift the story to the bottom was made in response to a plea made to the Mayor in writing by Fitzsimmons. It was upon good advice that this method of reaching the truth was adopted, and the city's chief executive saw the force of the contention that a hearing was the only fair thing by men charged with dishonest actions and motives, and, having no recourse, except through an expensive lawsuit, which would take months to decide.

"I can readily see that Fitzsimmons and Jeffries are entitled to a full hearing of their case," said Mayor Schmitz yesterday, "and I am willing to give it at any time they shall name. The thing may be decided in the City Hall and will be open to all who care to be present. No man need ever fear that he will stand charged of any dishonest action by me without a full opportunity to defend himself."

CLARENCE MACKAY TO RETIRE FROM TURF

HE ORDERS HIS TRAINER TO SELL HIS FINE STRING OF HORSES.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Clarence H. Mackay, the millionaire turfman, whose father, John W. Mackay, recently died in London, has retired from the turf.

He cabled his trainer, Charley Hill, today, ordering him to sell at once his stable, with the exception of two mares, Trigger and Kamara, which will be reserved for breeding purposes. The remainder of the string is to be held for private sale for ten days, and then those not disposed of will be auctioned off at public sale.

Among the cracks to be sold are that grand Henry Young-Quiver colt, Heno, the only horse which, as a two-year-old, succeeded in lowering the colors of the great Yankee, and for which Mr. Mackay paid $20,000 to John E. Madden last year; Banastar, one of the best handicap horses that ever looked through a bridle, which, when a red-hot favorite, was left at the post in the Brooklyn Handicap of 1900, causing the temporary banishment from the saddle of Jockey Danny Maher, against whom W. H. Clark, who then owned Banaster, made a personal complaint to the stewards; His Eminence, Brunswick, Gay Boy—three star two-year-olds which was entered in all the rich events this year—Skillful, Aceful and Mexican and several other lesser lights.

Mr. Mackay's retirement is directly due to the death of his father. The immense interests controlled by the Mackay millions will become such a load on the young man's shoulders that he will have no time to devote to horse-racing.

Mr. Mackay had many engagements at Saratoga for his large stable, and when he announced that he would scratch all his entries it came as a disappointment to the Saratoga Jockey Club.

Mexican was to have been Mr. Mackay's mainstay in the great Futurity, which this year will be worth nearly $70,000.

The deciding series of games in the Oakland amateur bowling tournament, which is to take place this evening promises to be of unusual interest as contesting teams, the Pastimes and O. B. A's, are tie for first place.

OAKLANDERS IN THE GRAND STAND

THURSDAY THEY WILL PLAY SACRAMENTOS AT THEIR HOME TOWN.

Lohman's Little Ones will have an opportunity tomorrow afternoon to sit in the grandstand with local fans and see the Angels and Ponies play the opening number in a six-game series. The doings are scheduled to be brought off at Golden Gate baseball park, and, as these two teams are battling to the death for second place honors in the California League pennant-race, the game should be a torrid one.

Morley expects to twirl his new man, Mr. Mills of Montreal. The latter is said to be loaded to the guards with mysteries and speed and has control to burn. Glendon will probably do the curve unwinding for Uncle Hank. He is something in the puzzle line himself, and it will keep Mills busy grinding the grist that Glen will offer.

Thursday the Lohmanites go to the Capital City, where they will entertain the Fisherites for a few days. Five games are on the schedule to be played at the Capital this week and Foxy Grandpa will just about bring four of them home with him.

McCreedie will accompany the team to the home town of the Lawmakers, but it is extremely doubtful if he appears in uniform during the series. Mac's injured hand is bothering him considerably and Manager Lohman does not want the long right fielder to take a chance of being laid up for the rest of the season.

Walters will soon be himself again. He has been playing for several weeks now, and although fielding cleverly and hitting out the ball hard, he is not doing what he is capable of. One more week, he says, and then Walters will be fit to play the game of his life.

DEWEY PLAYS RECEIVE CHEERS

DOUBLE PERFORMANCE WHICH CAPTIVATES A LARGE AUDIENCE.

One of the largest audiences that has ever been seen in the Dewey Theater gathered there last night to witness the great double bill which Manager Stevens had prepared for their entertainment.

A double bill has not been given at this house for some time and no bill of this kind has ever equaled that presented last night.

The company had practically been divided into two parts and each part strove with emulous rivalry to merit the applause of the audience. In this respect each was successful, because the rival performers were heartily called before the curtain at the close of each piece, and individual performers were liberally applauded as the several pieces progressed.

"Paris in 1793" introduced Robert Downing, Marie Heberton, who made her first appearance here, and Maurice Stewart, and no more. The play is a gem of its kind. It is genteel comedy in which the brightest minds clash, with the result that the audience is treated to a sample of the keenest wit and sarcasm. It satirizes the tendency of youth to fall in love before their time and their disposition to do mighty deeds in behalf of their loved ones. The impulsive youth was impersonated by Mr. Stewart and he gave the character a very natural and entertaining delineation. Mr. Downing was polished, playful, and at the same time, courtly. His reading was perfect and his sense of humor was infectious. Marie Heberton was bright and petulant in the part of Pauline.

The play "David Garrick" was never given a better presentation in this city than it received at the Dewey last night. Landers Stevens in the title role captivated the audience by the manly dignity and the rare tenderness which he displayed. In the drunken scene he was effective without descending to vulgarity. Fanny Gillette was charming as Ada. Mr. Walling made a very satisfactory Simon Ingot. The Squire Chivy of Mr. Blunkall was finely acted. The other characters by Mr. Damery, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Howe, Effie Bond and Lilian Atwood were acted with great skill. The same pieces will be played all this week.

EXCELLENT SHOWING MADE BY COUNCIL.

THERE WILL BE A VERY SMALL DEFICIT IN THE CITY TREASURY THIS YEAR.

The administration of municipal affairs for the fiscal year 1901-1902 has been brought to a successful close by the present City Council. There will be a small deficit of approximately $8,000, as compared to $26,000 last year. After the city pays all outstanding obligations including statutory salaries and Contra Costa Water Company's bills, amounting to over $58,000, there will be only a slight deficit in the City Treasury, much slighter than the tax-payer could have reasonably hoped for at the beginning of the last fiscal year.

In round numbers, the following figures give the financial standing of the city for the year ending July 28, 1902:

Three funds, the General Fund, Library Building Fund, and the Salary Fund are overdrawn to the extent of about $12,000 in the aggregate.

In the other funds there is an excess of approximately $92,000, which is subject to transfer by the City Council to any of the city's funds.

The Contra Costa Water Company has unpaid claims aggregating $58,000, leaving $35,000 for the city to meet current obligations. Of this sum $12,000 will be applied to the funds which are overdrawn, leaving a balance of $21,000.

Statutory salaries to the extent of $24,000 have been carried over, however, leaving a deficit of practically $3,000.

The following is a summary of the City Auditor's report filed last night with the City Council:

Condition of funds in the City Treasury, July 28, 1902: General Fund, overdrawn, $3,955.30; Salary Fund, overdrawn, $3,678.05; Street Fund, subject to transfer, $41,437.76; Fire Fund, $32,483.83; Police Fund, $10,304.32; School Fund, $53.73; High School Fund, $1,571.21; Library Fund, $604.87; Fire and Police Telegraph Fund, $1,368.66; Police Relief and Pension Fund, $6,262.40; Sewer Fund, $609.82; Park Fund, $2,832.56; Street Light Fund, $1,016.99; Park and Boulevard Fund, $24,364.68; School Building Bond and Interest Fund, $60.27; School Building Fund Redemption Fund, $257.32; Bond Interest, $1,128.85; Bond Redemption, $8,054.02; Printing Fund, $1,178.92; Disinterment Fund, $20; Free Library Building Fund, overdrawn, $21.

Recapitulation — Overdrawn, $12,691.35; amount to credit of funds, $144,963.21; amount found available for transfer by Council, $92,133.86; amount Contra Costa Water Company bills held up by Auditor for fiscal year, $58,400.20, leaving balance for transfer, $33,732.96.

PYTHIANS WILL BE WELCOMED.

CITY COUNCIL APPROPRIATES FUNDS FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF VISITING KNIGHTS.

The City Council will assist in making the celebration of the visiting Knights of Pythias an enjoyable and successful affair. Permission was granted to those in charge of the Pythian celebration to enclose Lafayette Square on August 13, when the visiting Knights will be the special guests of the city, to permit a public lunch being served. Another resolution was also adopted under the suspension of the rules authorizing Mayor Barstow to disburse $100 from the urgent necessity fund for the use of the committee in charge of the Pythian celebration.

The ladies of Oakland are now making preparations to publicly entertain the visiting Knights in an appropriate manner on the 13th of next month.

SUPT. M'LENEGAN RESIGNS FROM HAYWARDS ROAD.

ELMHURST, July 29.—S B. McLenegan, who has for the past year been superintendent of the Eastern Division of the Oaklannd Transit Company's lines, has tendered his resignation and will probably leave that office on August 1st. Mr. McLenegan resigns of his own will, it being his intention to retire from active work for a time. He has been connected with electric roads almost since electricity was first utilized as a motive power in street cars. During all that time he has been in active service, and as the business permits of practically no rest he has finally decided to take a much needed vacation.

Up to the time the Oakland, San Leandro and Haywards Electric Railroad Company was acquired by the Oakland Transit Company, Mr. McLenegan was secretary of the former company. When the old company went into other hands he was retained and made superintendent of the entire Eastern Division, a position of great responsibility, which he has successfully held. Prior to working in Oakland, Mr. McLenegan was connected for several years with the San Mateo line out of San Francisco. He is a railroad man of ability and his resignation will be keenly felt by the company he has so faithfully served, and especially the men over whom he has had charge for the past year.

SWINDLER BROUGHT FROM STOCKTON

C. S. Sleeper was brought to this city last night from Stockton by Captain of Police Wilson to face three charges of felony embezzlement. The prisoner has just finished serving a hundred days in the Stockton jail and unless he can prove a strong alibi, he will serve a like sentence here.

The charges against Sleeper were preferred by J. A. Jones, proprietor of a bicycle store, the second by the Pierce Hardware Company and the third by the O'Rear Sporting Goods House. It is alleged and Sleeper went to these firms and rented guns and bicycles. These he would pawn. A short time ago he left the city and operated in a similar manner in Stockton, with the result that the authorities there arrested and convicted him. As he answers the description of the man wanted here, the police think that they will convict him of all three charges.

HATED MINTO COURSE RETURNS TO BERKELEY.

With it May Also Come Back the Student Rush and the Bourdon Burial.

BERKELEY, July 29.—With the opening of the next college term, one of the time-honored courses in English composition, which was dropped from the curriculum three years ago, will be restored to its place and will be prescribed for all members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes in the colleges of social sciences, natural sciences, chemistry and letters. This course is Minto, or a study in the analysis of English prose styles, a course so thoroughly hated that it gave rise to the celebrated Bourdon-Minto burial, in which each year the Freshman class celebrated its release from the course by burning the text books with much pomp and ceremony, and incidentally with an old-time interclass "rush."

Whether the popular feeling will be so stirred up that Faculty rules will be disregarded and President Wheeler's mandates broken, remains to be seen. With the passing of Minto, the Bourdon passed, and with the Bourdon the rush. The interesting physcological problem now is as to whether with Minto will come the Bourdon burial, and with the Bourdon the "rush."

The course was one which up to three years ago, had been given continuously since the establishment of this university at Berkeley. It is known to graduates all over the State as "Minto" from the author of the text. Although it was so thoroughly hated by underclassmen, yet it is generally acknowledged to be one of the best courses given in English composition.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS FOR SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS

BERKELEY, July 29.—Announcement has been made of four lectures on "Irrigation" to be given by William Russell Thomas, of the Rocky Mountain News, Denver, and Albert E. Chandler, irrigation expert of the United States Department of Agriculture. These lectures will be given in the auditorium of the students' observatory, Berkeley, at 8 p. m. The lectures are "Pumping Water for Irrigation" to be given by Mr. Chandler on Friday, August 1, and Monday, August 4: "Interstate Water Rights" t obe given by Dr. Thomas on Tuesday, August 5, and Wednesday, August 6. The public is intended to attend these lectures.

PLAYED WITH MATCHES AND SET HOUSE ON FIRE.

BERKELEY, July 29.—Aida Middleton, the little five-year-old daughter of A. C. Middleton, of Francisco street and San Pablo avenue, came very nearly burning the house on Sunday afternoon. During the absence of her parents, she was amusing herself by playing with matches, when suddenly she dropped a lighted match into a lace curtain. The whole room was instantly ablaze.

The terrified child ran shrieking from the house, and called the neighbors to the scene. The flames were extinguished before they were communicated to any of the adjoining rooms. The damage was slight.

HADLENS DEFEAT GOLDEN BEARS IN BASEBALL.

BERKELEY, July 29.—The Hadlen Baseball Team of this city defeated the Golden Bear Team of San Francisco on the West Berkeley grounds Sunday by the one-sided score of 13 to 2. The batteries were:

Hadlens—Pryne and Sisterna.
Golden Bears—Nolan and Sheehan.

BERKELEY FLORIST WEDS SAN FRANCISCO GIRL.

BERKELEY, July 29.—Announcement has been made in Berkeley of the marriage of John A. Carboni, a well-known florist of Berkeley, residing at 1022 Alston Way, and Miss Aurella Cussinelli. The wedding was celebrated on Saturday at the bride's home in San Francisco.

OAKLAND PASTOR WILL LEAVE FOR THE EAST.

BERKELEY, July 29.—Willsie M. Martin, Assistant Pastor of the First Methodist Church of Oakland, will leave for the East during the early part of September, where he goes to take a three-year course in the Drew Theological Seminary, a Methodist institution of New Jersey. During the period of his course Martin will devote his whole energies to his studies and will attempt no active ministerial work.

Mr. Martin's career in the ministry has been an especially brilliant one, and gives great promise for the future. On his graduation from the University of California two years ago he was assigned to a field near Sacramento, where his work attracted a great deal of attention. He was next appointed assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church of Oakland, a promotion in recognition of his unusual ability.

During his college course Martin was one of California's crack intercollegiate debaters, winning the coveted Carnot medal for his university. He was also prominent in other University activities and has a host of college friends.

Mr. Martin resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Martin at 223 Dana street.

BURGLARS STILL WORK HAYWARDS

PICKLE COMPANY WILL SHORTLY OPEN FACTORY IN THE COUNTRY.

HAYWARDS, July 29.—A burglar entered Chisholm's Agricultural Works last Friday night and got away with about $15 worth of tools, including drills, bits, saw sets and it is thought that a ratchet brace was taken. All the tools stolen are such as could be used conveniently in a safe-cracking kit, and it is thought that the burglary was committed by a professional who was in need of a new set of tools. Who ever entered the works made a very careful and systematic search and had evidently secured a good idea of the interior of the place and the location of the different tools before entering.

The entrance was effected through a broken window in the front of the establishment. A large pole that had been placed across the broken window was removed and the man crawled through the hole without much difficulty. So far Mr. Chisholm estimates his loss at about $15, but as there is no way of telling the exact amount taken, he does not know the real extent of his loss. The drills taken were of the variety used by burglars in making an entrance into vaults.

Marshal Ramage has investigated the case and will keep a sharp lookout for all strangers and suspicious characters.

It has developed since the robbery that a strange man walked into the rear entrance of the Works the day before the robbery, and after standing around for a while he questioned the men in regard to securing a buggy. He was directed to a livery stable and the instance was forgotten. It was remembered afterwards, however, as was the peculiarity of his coming in at the rear entrance of the place. The man was a total stranger to every one in the shop. He was about six feet tall with red hair and moustache of the same color. He was afterwards seen in an intoxicated condition on the street.

It is the opinion of the peace officers that the robbery was the work of the same gang that so successfully gained entrance to the Meek and Powell residences the week previous. They think that these men may be planning a systematic robbery of Haywards before moving on, and the people are cautioned to keep a sharp look out for burglars.

A GOOD GAME OF BALL.

An interesting game of base ball was played last Sunday on the local ball grounds between picked teams from Haywards and San Leandro. The game resulted in a victory for the Haywards team by a score of 7 to 6. The Haywards boys did good work during the entire game but were given a hard run for the game by the San Leandro team. Walter Bryan, a well-known baseball man of Petaluma pitched for the Haywards team.

WILL OPEN SHORTLY.

It is the intention of the California Pickling Company that is now having its local factory put in shape, to begin active work in about three weeks. They will first handle cucumbers after which the tomatoes and other vegetables will be canned and pickled. The company expects to do a large business at the local establishment, owing to the productive country surrounding Haywards, where nearly every vegetable is grown in great abundance. The opening of the pickle factory will give employment to a great number of people and will be in operation nearly all the year round.

FOR PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR.

The friends of George Gray of this place have announced that he will run for the place of Public Administrator of this county. He is a well-known citizen of Haywards, where he has resided for a number of years. It was upon the earnest request of his many friends that Gray decided to get in the fight.

VISITING AT PRUNEDALE.

Mrs. George A. Oakes and Miss Nelda and Helen Oakes are visiting at the home of F. O. Oakes, of Prunedale.

A NEW RESIDENCE.

The work of constructing B. H. Madsen's handsome new residence on the Anspacher Tract has been started and is well under way. The residence, when completed will be one of the finest private dwellings in Haywards.

Women's Porraits on Postage Stamps.

It has been decided by the powers that be to put Martha Washington's portrait upon the eight-cent postage stamp. At present no woman's face is pictured upon any of the United States stamps. Whether the placing of Mrs. Washington's portrait upon the stamp that now bears a picture of General Sherman is to be considered as a step toward the Department's recognition of the rights of women or not is unexplained.

It is probable, however, that once a precedent is established the woman will demand honor for other members of their sex, and we may some day be licking stamps that show the features of all the women who have done great things for the country, Mrs. Ormsby among the rest. This is as it should be. They put the pictures of scantily clad women upon bank bills; why, then should the women—the good, grand, true, modest women—be barred from our postage stamps? Let the women have a chance. Who can foresee the heights they may reach if they can have the hope of some day getting their pictures printed upon postage stamps to spur them forward?—From the Chicago Record-Herald.

An Oklahoma dispatch says that Mr. Fulton of Enid is on his way to Washington to present to the Smithsonian institution the "remains" of a prehistoric sea serpent of gigantic size. In this case "remains" is especially good.

Whereas, In the opinion of this Council said contemplated work and improvement is, and is hereby declared to be of more than local or ordinary public benefit, now therefore, the Council of the City of Oakland does hereby resolve and declare that it is the intention of said Council to order the following work and improvement to be done, to-wit:

The construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor by the City Engineer of said City of Oakland and filed with the City Clerk of said City on the 7th day of July, 1902, of a Relief Outlet Sewer in and along Fourth avenue, from the manhole at Newton avenue to East 19th street; thence along East 19th street to Athol avenue; thence along Athol avenue to Lake Shore Avenue; thence across Lake Shore avenue and across the line of the proposed Boulevard to Lake Merritt; together with seven (7) manholes, three (3) catch basins with conduit pipes, the connection of said sewer with the existing sewer at the said manhole at Newton avenue, and the reconstruction of the lower portion of the existing conduit pipe at the existing catch basin at the northwestern corner of Newton avenue, and Fourth avenue, all as particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Said Relief Outlet Sewer will be constructed of concrete and will have a circular cross-section with diameter of three (3) feet inside and four (4) feet outside, excepting that where said sewer is on a pile foundation the outside cross-section will be modified to the extent of making the lower half rectangular in shape, with sides vertical and bottom level and four (4) feet wide.

The center line of said sewer, and the center points of said seven manholes herein provided for, will be located as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the inside wall of said manhole at Newton Ave., which point bears north 86 deg. west from the center of said manhole at Newton avenue; thence south seventy-nine degrees and forty-six minutes west (S. 79 deg. 46 min. W.) ninety-four (94) feet to the center of the first one of said seven manholes herein provided for; thence south sixty-eight degrees and forty-nine minutes west (S. 68 deg. 49 min. W.) two hundred twenty-one and six-tenths feet (221.6) to the center of the second of said manholes herein provided for; thence south fifty-seven degrees and forty-eight minutes west (S. 57 deg. 48 min. W.) one hundred and ninety-one and thirty-nine hundredths (191.39) feet; thence along a curve to the right (said curve having a radius of 40 feet) to a point of tangency in the line of said sewer, said point of tangency being the center of the third of said manholes herein provided for; and bearing north eighty-eight degrees five minutes west (88 deg. 05 min. W.) thirty-three and sixty-six hundredths (33.66) feet distant from the point of beginning of said curve; thence north fifty three degrees and fifty-seven minutes west (N. 53 deg. 57 min. W.) three hundred sixteen and sixty-seven hundredths (316.67) feet to the center of the fourth one of said manholes herein provided for; thence north sixty-two degrees and forty-one minutes west (N. 62 deg. 41 min. W.) four hundred and seventy (470) feet to the center of the fifth of said manholes herein provided for; thence south eighty-two degrees and twenty-one minutes west (S. 82 deg. 21 min. W.) two hundred forty-one and seventy-eight hundredths (241.78) feet to the center of the sixth of said manholes herein provided for; thence south fifty-eight degrees and four minutes west (S. 58 deg. 04 min. W.) one hundred and ninety-six (196) feet to a point of curve in the line of said sewer; thence on a curve to the right with a radius of nine (9) feet and having a chord which bears south eighty-three degrees and eighteen minutes west (S. 83 deg. 18 min. W.) seven and sixty-seven hundredths (7.67) feet to a point of tangency of said line of said sewer; thence north seventy-one degrees and twenty-eight minutes west (N. 71 deg. 28 min. W.) two hundred thirty-seven (237) feet to the outlet of the said sewer in Lake Merritt. The center of the seventh of said manholes will be located at the middle point of the curved arc last above mentioned.

From and including the seventh (7th) of said manholes to the end of said sewer in Lake Merritt, said sewer will have a foundation of timber and piles, said piles being driven in bents spaced eight (8) feet apart between centers, two piles in each bent. Each of said bents will have a cap of Oregon pine six (6) inches thick by twelve (12) inches wide and five (5) feet long; two (2) parallel longitudinal stringers, eight (8) by eight (8) inch Oregon pine; and a floor four (4) feet wide, built of two (2) inch by twelve (12) inch Oregon pine planking.

Said relief outlet sewer will be laid on a uniform grade between said existing manhole at Newton avenue and the point where said relief outlet sewer crosses the center line of the existing East Side sewer in Lake Shore avenue; and thence will be level to the end in Lake Merritt. The bottom inside of said relief outlet sewer at said existing manhole at Newton avenue, will be at the same elevation as the bottom inside of the upper end of the existing ten-inch sewer at said manhole at Newton avenue; and at said point of crossing of said East Side sewer the bottom inside of said relief outlet sewer will be at an elevation three (3) feet two (2) inches lower than the bottom outside of said East Side sewer.

Across the upper end of said relief outlet sewer, at said manhole at Newton avenue, there will be placed a wall or dam of concrete with its top level and at the same elevation as the upper end of the top of the inside of the existing ten (10) inch sewer at said manhole at Newton avenue. Above said dam of concrete, the wall of the manhole will be cut away so as to conform to the shape and size of the said relief outlet sewer.

Each of said seven (7) manholes herein proposed will be built of concrete below and of brick above the level of the top outside of said relief outlet sewer at each respective manhole, and will be circular in plan and will be provided with a cast-iron ventilating top with iron pan.

The first, second, third and seventh of said manholes will be four (4) feet in diameter inside at bottom, and will taper to a diameter of two(2) feet inside at top. The fourth, fifth and sixth of said manholes will be four (4) feet in diameter from the bottom to a point in each case seven (7) feet below the top and taper thence to a diameter of two (2) feet inside at top. Each of said seven (7) manholes will be provided with steps made from bars of round iron, one (1) inch in diameter, galvanized, and bent into the shape of the letter "U;" said steps to be placed fifteen (15) inches apart in a vertical row on the inside of the wall of the manhole. The walls of said manholes are to be eight (8) inches thick.

Said three (3) catch basins are to be constructed of concrete with tops and inlet frames of iron and have inlet openings nine (9) inches high and three (3)feet wide, and be connected, in each case, with said relief outlet sewer by means of a twelve (12) inch salt-glazed vitrified iron-stone pipe. Said catch basins will be located with their inlet openings vertical and on the curb lines, one each at the following points to-wit: At the northwestern corner of Newton avenue and 4th avenue; at the northern corner of 4th avenue and East 19th street, and at the eastern corner of 4th avenue and east 19th street.

The lower ten (10) feet of the existing conduit pipe at the intersection of Fourth avenue and Newton avenue will be taken up, relaid, and said existing conduit will be extended with material of the same size and kind as said existing conduit is now built of, so as to enter said relief outlet sewer one (1) foot westerly from the outside of said existing manhole at the intersection of Fourth avenue and Newton avenue.

Said conduit from said catch basin at northwestern corner of Newton avenue and Fourth avenue will join said sewer at the point where said sewer crosses the western line of Newton avenue extended southerly. Said conduit from said catch basin at the northern corner of Fourth avenue and East 19th street will join said sewer at the third of said manholes. Said conduit from said catch basin at the eastern corner of Fourth avenue and East 19th street will join said sewer at the point of beginning of said curve first above mentioned.

And said Council does hereby determine and declare that said proposed work and improvement will effect and benefit the lands and district hereinafter described, and that, therefore, the entire costs and expenses of said work and improvement shall be and is hereby made chargeable against and assessed upon said lands and district, which district is within the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and is particularly bounded and described as follows to-wit:

NOTICE TO VOTERS

REGISTRATION

Office of the County Clerk,
Alameda County, Cal.

NOTICE IS HEREBY given that in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 53 Statutes of 1899, all voters of Alameda County must apply for re-registration in order to be able to vote at the General Election in November, as every name on Great Register was cancelled January 1st, 1902.

Owing to the fact that there is no provision of law providing assistance for the Clerk to register voters, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT VOTERS SHOULD APPLY FOR RECISTRATION AT ONCE IN ORDER TO EXPEDITE THE WORK.

Such re-registration began on the 1st day of January, and will be in progress at all times until forty days preceding the next election in November.

In order to facilitate the work of re-registration, attention is called to the provisions of Section 1097, which reads as follows:

Sec. 1097. No person's name must be entered by the Clerk, unless:

1. Upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the Superior Court directing such entry to be made.

2. If a naturalized citizen, upon the production of his certificate of naturalization, which certificate must be issued ninety days prior to the succeeding election, or upon his affidavit that it is lost or out of his possession, which affidavit must state the place of his nativity and the time and place of his naturalization, together with his affidavit that he has resided in the United States for five years, and in this State for one year next preceding the time of application, and that he would be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election; provided, however, if such naturalized citizen shall have been previously registered as a qualified elector in any of the counties, or cities and counties of this State, his name must not be entered by the Clerk unless he produces a certificate of such registration, issued by the party authorized by law to issue such certificate, which certificate shall be prima facie evidence of his naturalization.

3. If born in a foreign country, upon his affidavit that he became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the naturalization of his father while he was residing in the United States, and under the age of twenty-one years, and that he is or would be, an elector of the county at the next ensuing election.

4. In other cases, upon the affidavit of the party that he is or will be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election.

Further notice is hereby given that Affidavits of Registration must be sworn to before the County Clerk or his deputies, and that they can not, owing to the provisions of the new Registration Law, be sworn to before any other officer.

The office of the County Clerk will be, until further notice, open for registration from Nine A. M. until Five P. M. each day.

FRANK C. JORDAN,
County Clerk, Alameda County.

California Oil Stocks

and as one of the best investments and a future dividend payer, which is still selling at a low figure, buy shares of the

MONTE CRISTO Oil and Development Co.
Capitalization, 500,000 Shares
PAR VALUE, $1.00.

Owns outright (clear title) 140 acres of the N. W. ¼ in 5-29-28, all of which is proven oil land in the very heart of the Kern River District.

Has 41 wells at present and will drill 4 more and then stop further expense of drilling.

Has a contract for five millions (5,000,000) barrels of oil with the Standard Oil Company at 20 cents per barrel for 5 years.

The fact of another large company having a similar contract and paying big dividends on the production of 16 wells only, proves conclusively that the Monte Cristo is bound to pay larger dividends by the 1st of January, 1903.

For statement and comparison of these facts write to the undersigned, who will be pleased to furnish the proof of his assertions.

The stock is listed at the Exchange and at present shares can be bought in the open market at the low price of $1.25 per share.
